PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION, WEST BENGAL

General instructions to candidates applying in response to advertisements issued by the Commission for recruitment to posts by "Selection".

(1) Instructions regarding submission of application: Applications are to be made on the prescribed form which will be available from the office of the Public Service Commission, West Bengal, Anderson House (ground floor), Alipore, Calcutta-27, personally or on sending a large self-addressed envelope with stamps sufficient to cover the postage affixed to it. Candidates who are unable to obtain copies of the prescribed form may apply on any similar typed (not handwritten) form showing exactly the wording and spacing of the sample form published in the "Calcutta Gazette" of the 1st September, 1955, provided the blanks are filled up in the candidates' own handwriting.

(2) Concession in age to political sufferer: A candidate who before 15th August 1947 was detained, imprisoned, interned or externed on account of his/her activities in connection with the country's struggle for independence, not being convicted of an offence indicating moral turpitude, shall be entitled to a concession in respect of the upper age limit. The concession granted will be equal to the exact period of detention, imprisonment, internment or externment suffered up to a maximum of four years.

(3) Particulars and certificates required: Candidates should furnish evidence of their age, qualifications and previous experience together with certificates written not more than one year prior to the date of their applications, from responsible persons, testifying to their private character.

The Commission accepts only the age of a candidate as recorded in the Matriculation or the Secondary School Final/Leaving Certificate. In the case of a female candidate whose age is not recorded in the Matriculation or School Final Certificate, any of the following evidence of age is accepted by the Commission:—

1. A certificate from the Headmistress of the School, which she last attended, showing her exact age as recorded in the school register.

2. An affidavit regarding her age sworn by her father or mother or some other person in a position to know by having been present or heard of her birth at the time of occurrence.

3. A certificate regarding her age, from a Member of the Legislature or a gazetted officer, who must have known the candidate and her family, indicating clearly the evidence on the basis of which he/she satisfied himself/herself on the point.

(4) Fee: Candidates must enclose with their applications a fee of Rs. 5/- in the form of a receipted chalan from a Government Treasury or the Reserve Bank of India under the head "XXI—Miscellaneous—Receipts of the Public Service Commission, West Bengal". Money orders, cheques, etc., in lieu of treasury chalans are not accepted. Postal orders, however, may be accepted from candidates. They should be crossed and made payable to "The Deputy Secretary, Public Service Commission, West Bengal". No application will be considered unless accompanied with the requisite application fee.

Candidates abroad may deposit their application fees with the High Commissioner of India or the Embassy, as the case may be, and obtain receipts for the same, which will have to be attached to their applications to be submitted to the Commission.

Candidates in Government service should make sure before depositing fee that their applications will be forwarded by their superior officers. In no case will the fee paid with the application be refunded.

Note.—A member of the Scheduled Caste or Scheduled Tribe claiming age concession must furnish with his application a certificate in original from a gazetted officer or a Member of Parliament or State Legislature belonging to the Scheduled Caste or Scheduled Tribe, specifying the particular caste or tribe to which he claims to belong.

(5) Address: Candidates should give their present address and should communicate at once any subsequent change of address.

(6) Canvassing: Any attempt on the part of candidates to enlist support of their applications through persons of influence or officials of Government will disqualify them for appointment. Spontaneous recommendation from persons interested in the candidates or otherwise known to them will be disregarded.

(7) Applications from candidates who are in permanent or temporary employment under any Government, a local or Statutory Body (e.g., Damodar Valley Corporation), in India will be rejected unless they are submitted through the appointing authority of their posts or service.

Candidates serving under Government or a local or Statutory Body should submit an advance copy in the prescribed form. The application fee should in such cases be attached to the advance copy and not to the original. The candidature of such applicants may not however be considered if the original applications do not reach the Commission's office within a fortnight from the closing date. Unless applications in original or advance copies with application fees are received within the closing date, late applications may be rejected.

Secretary, Public Service Commission,

No. 1934L.—30th July, 1964.—The Governor having been pleased to order, under rule 60 of the Rules of Procedure and Conduct of Business in the West Bengal Legislative Assembly, the publication of the following Bill, together with the Statement of Objects and Reasons which accompanies it, in the Calcutta Gazette, the Bill and the Statement of Objects and Reasons are accordingly hereby published for general information:—

THE POLICE (WEST BENGAL AMENDMENT) BILL, 1964.

to amend the Police Act, 1861, in its application to West Bengal.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the Police Act, 1861, in its application to West Bengal, for the purposes and in the manner hereinafter appearing; Act V of 1861.

It is hereby enacted in the Fifteenth Year of the Republic of India, by the Legislature of West Bengal, as follows:—

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Police (West Bengal Amendment) Act, 1964.

Application of the Act.

2. The Police Act, 1861 (hereinafter referred to as the said Act), shall, in its application to West Bengal, be amended in the manner hereinafter provided.

Insertion of new section 4A in Act V of 1861.

3. After section 4 of the said Act, the following section shall be and shall be deemed always to have been inserted, namely:—

"Additional Inspector-General of Police.

4A. (1) If, at any time, the State Government considers it necessary so to do, it may appoint an officer to be the Additional Inspector-General of Police who shall be deemed to be subordinate to the Inspector-General of Police.

(2) The Additional Inspector-General of Police shall be competent to exercise or perform all or any of the powers, functions or duties conferred or imposed upon the Inspector-General of Police by or under this Act or any other law for the time being in force.".

The Police (West Bengal Amendment) Bill, 1964.

(Clause 4.)

Insertion of new section 34B.

4. After section 34A of the said Act, the following section shall be inserted, namely:—

'Prohibition of sale of tickets for admission to an entertainment except under the orders of, and at the place provided and price fixed by, the proprietor of the entertainment.

34B. (1) Any person who sells or attempts to sell tickets for admission to a place of entertainment, except under the orders of, and at the place provided and price fixed in this behalf by, the proprietor of the entertainment, shall, on conviction before a Magistrate, be liable to imprisonment for a term which may extend to three months or to fine which may extend to one hundred rupees or to both.

(2) Any police-officer not below the rank of Sub-Inspector may take into custody, without warrant, any person who, within his view, commits any offence punishable under sub-section (1) or seize any ticket in respect of which he is satisfied that any such offence has been committed.

(3) A court trying any offence punishable under sub-section (1) may, without prejudice to any other or further order or orders that may, in its opinion, be passed in the case, direct the forfeiture of any ticket which may have been seized under sub-section (2).

Explanation.—In this section,—

(a) "entertainment" means any exhibition, performance, amusement, game or sport to which persons are admitted on production of tickets; and

(b) the expression "proprietor" in relation to any entertainment includes any person responsible for the management of such entertainment.'.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

There are numerous and complex problems which the West Bengal Police Directorate has to grapple with in the districts. Increase in population, growth of new townships, development of urban and industrial areas with a heterogeneous population including criminal and lawless elements, massive Chinese aggression against India's territory, border security, recent communal disturbances, etc.—these are some of the more important contributory factors which have led to a heavy increase in the work of the Police Directorate. Accordingly, after the last communal disturbances when the work of the Inspector-General of Police had tremendously increased, it was decided to give him some relief by appointing an Additional Inspector-General of Police.

As the provisions of the Police Act, 1861, are not clear whether an Additional Inspector-General of Police can be appointed, it is considered expedient to amend the Act so as to make specific enabling provisions in this behalf with retrospective effect. The present Bill has been brought forward with this object in view.

It is also proposed to curb the practice of unscrupulous men buying a large number of tickets sold for admission to various places of entertainment and then re-selling the tickets at a higher price. It is considered necessary to include in the Police Act, 1861, direct and specific provisions so as to enable the Police to deal with such persons effectively. An amendment with this object in view has also been included in the Bill.

Part III—Counter Machines

1. Definition: 1.1 A counter machine is an equal armed weighing instrument of capacity not exceeding 50 kg, the pans of which are above the beam. Figure 1 illustrates a typical counter machine.

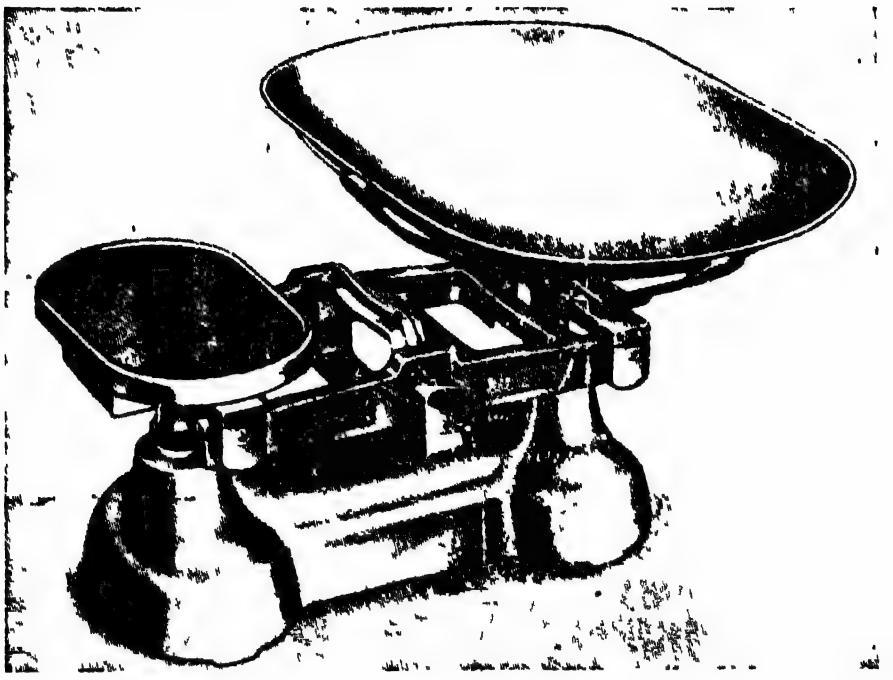

Fig. 1—Counter Machine

2. Capacities: The machines may be of the following maximum capacities:

500 g, 1 kg, 2 kg, 3 kg, 5 kg, 10 kg, 15 kg, 20 kg, 25 kg and 50 kg.

3. General Requirements: (a) When the beam or body has two sides, they shall be connected together by not less than two cross-bars. The supports for the pans shall be of a suitable rigid structure such as cross members strengthened by straps. Central pieces or forks shall be fixed so that they are not twisted or dislocated.

(b) Bearing surfaces, knife-edges and points of contact of all stays, hooks and loops shall be of hard steel or agate. The knife-edges and bearings shall be so fitted as to allow the beam to move freely. The knife-edges shall rest upon the bearings along the whole length of their working part.

(c) A counter machine may have a balance box for minor adjustments. In such a case, the balance box shall be permanently fixed beneath the weight pan and shall be large enough to contain loose material to an amount up to one per cent. of the capacity of the machine. No other adjusting contrivance shall be used.

(d) The pans may be of any suitable material such as mild steel, stainless steel, brass or bronze. They may be of any convenient shape.

(e) The minimum fall either way on counter machines shall be as follows:—

Capacity and Fall

500 g, 1 kg and 2 kg— 6 mm.
3 kg, 5 kg, 10 kg, 15 kg—10 mm.
20 kg, and 25 kg.—12 mm.
20 kg, and 25 kg.—12 mm.
50 kg.—13 mm.

4. Tests: (a) The machines shall be tested on a horizontal level plane.

(b) Sensitiveness and Error.—(i) The machine shall be tested for sensitiveness at full load with the beam in horizontal position. The addition of the weight specified in cols. 2 or 4 as the case may be in Table 1 shall cause the pointer to rise or fall to the limit of its range of movement.

(ii) The error is the weight, if any, required to bring the beam of the instrument to a horizontal position when fully loaded with weights equal to its capacity on both pans. It shall not exceed the limits specified in cols. 3 and 5 as the case may be of Table 1.

(c) The test for sensitiveness shall be carried out only with the pans loaded to the full capacity of the machine.

(d) When the goods pan is in the form of a scoop, the machine shall be correct to the prescribed limits of error if half the full load is placed against the middle of the back of the scoop and the other half at any position on the scoop.

(e) When the goods pan is not in the form of a scoop, the counter machines shall indicate the same weight within half the prescribed limits of error, if the centre of a load equal to half the capacity is placed on the goods pan anywhere within a distance from the centre equal to end-third of the greatest length of the pan, or if the pan has a vertical side against the middle of that side, the weight being entirely on the weight pan, but in any position on it.

(f) The sliding poise and suspending hooks shall be securely attached to the instrument. All end-fittings such as the nut attached to prevent the poise carrier riding off the steelyard, shall be securely fixed to the shank. The sliding poise shall be freely moveable and there shall be a stop to prevent it from travelling behind the zero mark. Steelyards having counterpoise or travelling poise shall be provided with a hole or other suitable means for the future adjustment of the counterpoise or travelling poise, such hole being undercut. Wherever loose material is used in the travelling poise, it shall be securely enclosed.

(g) Steelyards shall be neither reversible nor have three hooks, and shall not be of counter type.

(h) Steelyards shall be provided with a vertical pointer directly above the fulcrum to indicate the true equilibrium.

(i) If a moveable hook, tray, or bucket, is used it shall form an essential part of the steelyard without which it is not possible to balance the steelyard.

4. Tests: (a) Steelyards shall be tested at full load for sensitiveness and error, and shall comply with the requirements of Table 1.

(i) The test for sensitiveness shall be carried out at full load with the steelyard in horizontal position. The addition of the weight specified in column (2) or (4) of Table 1 shall make the steelyard turn.

(ii) The error or the weight, if any, required to bring the steelyard to a horizontal position when fully loaded shall not exceed the limits specified.

(b) Each numbered graduation shall be tested and the instrument shall be correct whether the test is carried out with increasing or decreasing loads.

Part V—Platform Weighing Machines

1. Definition: (a) A platform weighing machine means a weighing instrument with compound levers and with the goods receptacle generally in the form of a platform. The capacity of these machines shall not exceed 3 tonnes and the weight of the load is indicated with steelyard or other form of indicator.

(b) The nomenclature of a platform weighing machine is given in Fig. 1 which shows a 'loose-weight' type machine. In the case of 'no-loose-weight' type machine, there are two sliding poises, one for the major bar and the other for the minor bar of the steelyard.

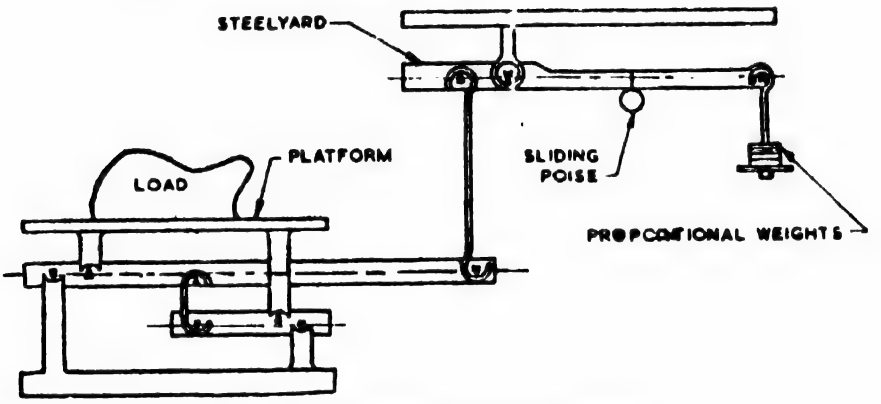

Fig. 1—Platform Weighing Machine

2. Capacities: Platform weighing machines may be of the following capacities: 50 kg, 100 kg, 150 kg, 200 kg, 250 kg, 300 kg, 500 kg, 1000 kg, 1500 kg, 2000 kg and 3000 kg.

3 General Requirements: (a) Steelyard.

(i) The steelyard in the platform weighing machine shall not have any readily removable part except the support for proportional weights. There shall be one or more stops to prevent the sliding poise or poises from travelling behind the zero mark. The minimum travel of a steelyard in platform machines shall be 10 mm either way.

(ii) The top and bottom of the guide and/or steelyard shall be fitted with non-magnetic material.

(iii) When the steelyard is provided with notches, these shall be suitably protected.

(iv) The value of the smallest division on the minor bar shall not exceed the greatest error allowed for that capacity except for machines of capacities 200 kg and below in which case the value of the smallest division may exceed error prescribed for that capacity but shall not exceed 100 g.

(v) The value of the smallest graduation on dials or minor steelyards, and wherever possible major steelyards shall be 1 g, 2 g, 5 g or any multiple by 10, or any power of 10 (for instance 100, 1000 etc.) of any of these weights.

(b) Platform: (i) The permissible extension of the platform on either side of the box in the case of extended platform shall be not more than 25 per cent. of the length of the box.

(ii) If a moveable hutch, barrow, frame or bucket is used with the ordinary platform, it shall form an essential part of the machine without which it is not possible to balance the machine. The movable hutch, barrow, frame or bucket shall be identified with the machine and when in position on the platform, it shall be as central as possible.

(c) Balancing Arrangement: (i) Where a balance box is provided on the steelyard, the balancing ball shall not be easily accessible.

(ii) The balancing arrangement for daily wear and tear shall have a range not exceeding 0.5 per cent. of the capacity of the machine and not less than 0.125 per cent. of the capacity each way (see Table 1). The balance box containing the balancing ball shall be securely attached to the steelyard, preferably by passing a bolt through the casing to the steelyard. The balancing ball shall be actuated by a detachable key.

(d) In the case of platform machines provided with dials:

(i) the racks and pinions shall be of suitable hard-wearing material and shall be finished smooth;

(ii) the extremity of the pointer shall, in no position be at a greater distance than 5 mm from the graduated surface of the dial. Further, the extremity of the pointer shall be on the graduated portion of the dial, and it shall be so made as not to obscure the graduations or make them difficult to read; and

(iii) the dial shall be graduated into equal parts and the minimum width between the graduations shall be not less than 2 mm.

(e) The machine may, if required, have arrangement for marking up the tare.

(f) For machines without proportional weights, the total capacity shall be that indicated on the major steelyard.

4. Proportional Weights: (a) All loose proportional weights in a platform machine shall be identified with the machine by a number or any other suitable mark of identification, which shall be indelible. The counter-poise weights shall be marked with their equivalent weights as indicated in Fig. 2.

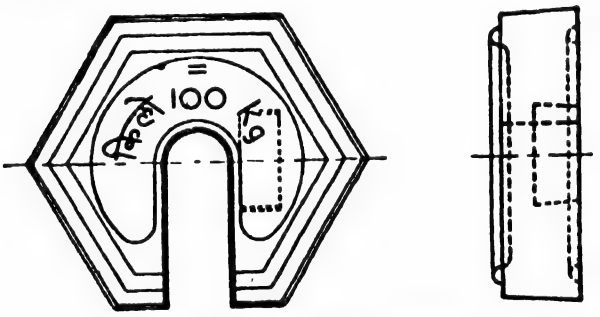

Fig. 2—Proportional Weight

(b) The proportional weights shall be hexagonal in shape with a slot of suitable size to allow them being placed on the counter balance (see Fig. 2).

(c) The proportional weights shall be made of cast iron or brass.

(d) The proportional weights shall have one rectangular loading hole which shall be undercut or tapering outwards so as to hold lead securely for adjustments. The undercut hole shall be reasonably large to accommodate the lead required for adjustments. The surface of the lead in the loading hole of a new proportional weight shall be at least 3 mm inside from the bottom surface of the weight.

(e) In the case of platform machines provided with proportional weights the smallest denomination of the proportional weights shall be equivalent to the weights represented by the maximum graduation on the steelyard.

(f) The denomination of the proportional weights shall be 1 kg, 2 kg, 5 kg or a multiple or sub-multiple by 10 or a power of 10 (100, 1000 etc.) of any of these weights. Any number of proportional weights in any one of the aforesaid denominations may be included provided the total of all the porportional weights does not exceed the capacity of the weighing instrument.

Note: While arriving at the capacity of the platform machines, the maximum graduation shown on the steelyard in the case of 'loose-weight' platform machines and on the minor bar in the case of 'no-loose-weight' type machines shall not be taken into account.

(g) The total capacity of the machine shall include the capacity of graduated tare bar or bars wherever provided.

Note: When tare bars are used and are not graduated except with a zero mark only, they shall not be taken into account when calculating the capacity of the machines. Ungraduated tare bars shall be marked with zero.

5. Tests and Test Requirements: (a) The steelyard of a platform weighing machine shall remain horizontal at no-load.

(b) Platform weighing machines shall be tested to verify the accuracy of graduations or notches up to the total capacity.

(c) All loose proportional weights, where these are provided, shall be tested and then suitably sealed to prevent tampering.

(d) With one quarter of the maximum load (or as near thereto as practicable) placed in the middle or at any of the corners of the platform, the platform weighing machine shall show the correct weight within half the limits of error prescribed in Table 2 in Col. 3 for non-dial type machines and in Col. 4 for dial type machines.

(e) Platform weighing machines with steelyard arrangement shall be tested for sensitiveness and error at full load or as near to it as practicable. The sensitiveness and permissible error shall not exceed the limits prescribed in Cols. 2 and 3 respectively of Table 2.

(i) The machines shall be tested at loads corresponding to the major divisions or notches.

(f) With the exception of sensitiveness test (see 'e' above), the other tests mentioned above shall be carried out in a similar manner on dial type machines also. These machines shall comply with the requirements prescribed in Col. 4 of Table 2.

6. Sealing: (a) Platform machines of the dial type shall be fitted with a soft-metal plug for receiving the seal of the verification authority and wherever practicable, this plug shall be passed through the dial and frame. The plug or stud fitted on the dial shall be so supported as to prevent the risk of any damage to the instrument.

(b) On platform machines other than those of the dial type, a plug or stud shall be provided in a conspicuous position on the indicating lever or steelyard.

Part VI—Spring Balances

1. Definition: (a) A spring balance is an instrument which, on the application of the load to be weighed, indicates the whole weight by the extension or compression of a spring, such extension or compression being registered by means of a pointer on a dial.

(b) The general arrangement of spring balance without scoop and support is illustrated in Fig. 1.

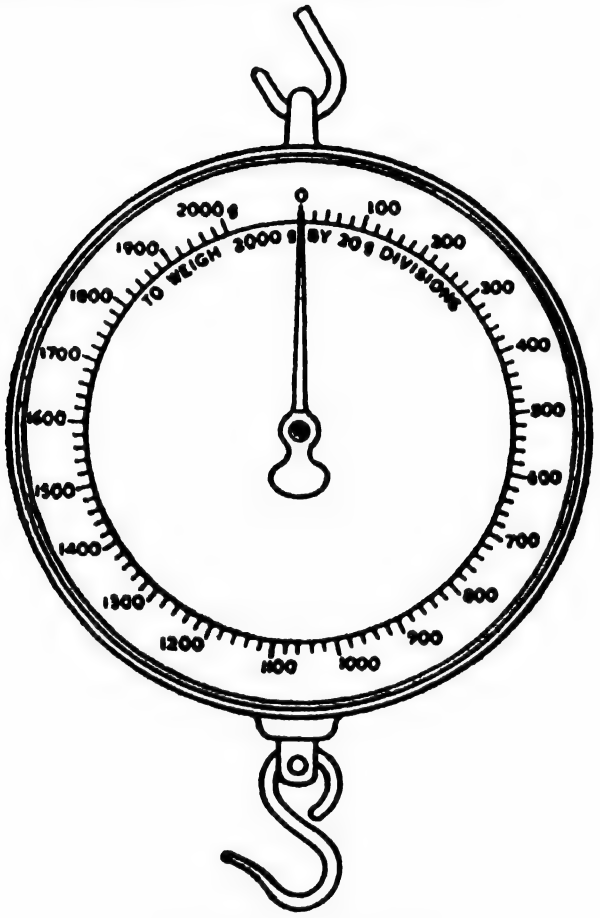

Fig. 1—Spring Balance

2. Capacities: The spring balance shall be of one of the capacities shown in Table 1.

3. General Requirements: (a) In addition to the general requirements specified in Part I of this Schedule, spring balance shall comply with the requirements given below:

(b) The expression 'correct' means correct within the limits of errors prescribed in these rules.

2. Measuring instruments of the following categories are included into these specifications:

(a) Dispensing pumps.

(b) Metres used for the measurement of quantities of oil and/or liquids flowing through pipelines or in package filling or deliveries to and from oil tanks, wagons, road vehicles, aviation refuellers, etc.

(c) Volumetric container filling machines.

3. General Requirements: (a) All commercial measuring instruments viz., dispensing pumps, meters and volumetric filling machines shall be conspicuously, clearly and prominently marked for the purpose of identification, with the name, initials or registered trade mark of the manufacturer.

(b) The manufacturer's name or the registered trade mark shall be such as will not be mistaken for the stamp or seal of the Inspector.

(c) Every volumetric container filling machine shall have the capacity of the container prominently and indelibly marked on it.

(d) The mechanism or devices attached thereto or used in connection therewith shall be so constructed, assembled or installed as to minimise the possibility of fraudulent practices.

(e) All graduations indicating quantities delivered shall be clearly and indelibly marked.

Such a preliminary test shall be made at the request of the manufacturer or dealer.

Part XIII—Dispensing Pumps

1. Definitions: (a) A dispensing pump is a measuring instrument used in conjunction with a storage tank or tanks for effecting deliveries of liquid products by specified volumes.

(b) 'Wet Hose' System: A type of device designed to be operated with the discharge hose full of liquid at all times. A 'Wet Hose' is the discharge hose in this type of device.

(c) A 'Dry-Hose' System: A type of device in which the discharge hose is completely drained following each delivery. A 'Dry Hose' is the discharge hose in this type of device.

2. Types: (a) Dispensing pumps shall be either of the meter type or container type.

3. General Requirements: (a) A dispensing pump shall essentially consist of—

(i) suitable casing or housing,

(ii) pumping unit,

(iii) metering unit or volumetric container,

(iv) register for quantities, and

(v) flexible hose with nozzle.

4. Every dispensing pump shall be provided with an individual sales indicator, graduated to indicate all possible deliveries. Any other counting or totalising device that may be provided, shall be so arranged as to avoid any possibility of confusion with the individual sales indicator.

5. A dispensing pump of meter type shall be so constructed that, after a particular delivery cycle has been completed by movement of the starting lever to its shut-off position, an effective automatic interlock shall prevent a subsequent delivery being started until the indicating element have been returned to their correct zero position.

6. A dispensing pump of container type shall be so constructed that the individual sales indicator shall register only when the discharge from each container has commenced. A notice shall be prominently exhibited on the pump panel to indicate clearly and prominently the following:

'PLEASE ENSURE BEFORE STARTING DELIVERY'

(i) Sales indicator is set at zero.

(ii) Container is full.

7. Dispensing pumps of container type shall be provided with observation windows or other means for showing clearly that the container or containers are properly charged and discharged.

8. Dispensing pumps delivering the liquid under pressure shall work on the 'wet hose' system, fitted with a nozzle having combination-control valve and automatic pressure discharge valve which should operate under the pressure at which the pump is designed to deliver.

9. Dispensing pumps delivering liquid under gravity shall work on the 'dry hose' system. The 'dry hose' shall be of such length and stiffness as to facilitate complete and rapid drainage of the hose pipe and shall be provided with a nozzle without any valve.

10. The length of the discharge hose on a dispensing pump shall not exceed 5 metres from the outside of the housing of the pump to the inlet end of the discharge nozzle.

11. A dispensing pump of the meter type shall have an effective air eliminator unit situated after the pumping unit and immediately preceding the metering unit.

12. A dispensing pump of the container type shall have a suitable air vent to preclude the possibilities of air-trap in the volumetric container.

13. Tests: (a) All dispensing pumps shall be tested for accuracy of discharge as described hereunder.

(b) A dispensing pump shall be tested under practical working conditions with the liquid that the instrument is intended to deliver.

(c) All dispensing pumps shall be verified by check measures. The check measures may be of the denominations 1, 5, 10 and 20 litres.

(d) Every check measure shall be verified against the appropriate working standard measure at least once in every period of six months and duly sealed.

(e) Before commencing checking of dispensing pump, the pump shall be run for a few minutes to ensure that all the units are functioning smoothly and also the discharge hose has been wetted.

(f) A dispensing pump before being tested for accuracy shall be tested for leakage by being first fully primed.

14. The procedure for testing a dispensing pump shall be as follows:—

(a) The standard check measure shall first be filled to wet the entire inside surface. It shall then be emptied.

(b) The pointer (meter type) or reading (container type) of the recording mechanism shall then be set to zero.

(c) The pump shall be operated to dispense the liquid into the standard check measure until the pointer (meter type) is at zero position again or the reading (container type) records the capacity of the check measure.

(d) If the quantity of liquid delivered is in error beyond the permissible limits, the instrument shall be adjusted so that it delivers a quantity within permissible limits of error.

(e) Steps (b), (c) or (d) shall be repeated until the pump gives two consecutive deliveries within permissible limits of error.

(f) If the instrument has been found to give correct measure in the initial test itself, further test of accuracy shall be made and recorded.

15. Every dispensing pump shall deliver correctly at reasonable uniform speed which shall be not less than 10 litres per minute.

16. The permissible limits of error are specified below:

Quantity.	Verification. (errors in excess)	Inspection. error	error
		Excess.	Deficiency.
20 Litres	100ml	Same as on verification.	50ml
10 Litres	50ml		25ml
5 Litres	30ml		15ml
1 Litre	10ml		5ml

No error in deficiency shall be permitted during verification.

17. Sealing and stamping: After adjustment for correct delivery lead-and-wire seals shall be applied in such manner that no further adjustment can be made, without mutilating the seal or seals. Plain wire shall not be used for lead-and-wire seal or seals. Inspector's stamp on the lead seal or seals shall be affixed by means of a plier. Inspector's stamp shall also be marked on the name-plate fixed on the dispensing pumps.

18. A name plate to be fixed on the petrol pump for indentification shall be of the shape and design shown below:—

THE WEST BENGAL STANDARDS OF

* . . WEIGHTS AND MEASURES (ENFORCEMENT) ACT, 1958

(NAME OF THE OWNER OF THE PUMP AND PUMP NO.

19. Capacity: The capacity of a dispensing pump of meter type shall be the maximum graduation on the dial or register.

The capacity of a dispensing pump of container type shall be the capacity of the container or where there is more than one container the aggregate capacity of the containers.".

13. In Schedule VIII appended to the said rules, for the letter and word "T. Receipt", substitute the words "Treasury/Money Receipt".

14. In Schedule IX appended to the said rules,—

(a) in Part I—Weights and Measures under the heading "3 Measures of Length",—

(I) in clause (b), for the entries '5 kg' against Steel Tape Measure, substitute the entries namely '2 kg' for 1 m. and 2 m. tapes, and 5 kg. for 10m, 15m, 20m, 30m and 50m tapes.";

(II) in clause (f), for the word 'at' in the second line, substitute the words 'attached to';

(b) after Part 2—"Weighing Instruments and Measuring Instruments", insert the following new Part, namely:—

"Part 3—Calibration of Vehicle Tanks for Petroleum Products and other Liquids.

1. Definitions: (a) Vehicle Tank: An assembly used for the delivery of liquids comprising a tank which may or may not be subdivided into compartments, mounted upon a vehicle together with its necessary piping, valves, meters, etc.

(b) Compartment: The entire tank, when this is not subdivided; otherwise, any one of these subdivisions of a tank designed to hold liquid.

(c) Calibration: Verification and stamping of the capacity of the vehicle tank.

(d) Dip Stick: A square or rectangular metal bar of brass or any other suitable hard material used to determine the depth of the liquid in the tank.

(e) Ullage Stick: A T-shaped metal bar of brass or other suitable material used to determine the depth of the level of liquid from the top of the dip pipe.

(f) Ullage Indicator: A device bolted to the inside of a manhole neck ring with the indicator set to any desired level to which liquid in the tank is required to be filled.

2. Testing Medium: (a) Compartment Testing: Water or other appropriate liquid shall be used as a testing medium in determining the capacity of a vehicle tank compartment.

(b) Meter Testing: A vehicle tank meter shall be tested with a liquid of the same character or of approximately the same viscosity as the liquid to be commercially measured through the meter.

3. Equipmtnt and Tools: The following equipment and tools are required for calibration of vehicle tank:

(a) Proving Measures: When available, shall be checked for accuracy against an appropriate working standard measure.

(b) Calibrated Bulk Meter: An accurate meter fitted with a pre-set valve, air eliminator and strainer, which has been checked for accuracy against an appropriate working standard measure.

(c) A set of standard commercial measures.

(d) Other equipment and tools viz., hose pipes, scribe, punch, try square, tyre pressure gauge, hammer, etc.

4. Calibration Procedure: (a) Vehicle tanks used as measures shall be calibrated as capacity measures. In the case of meter equipped tanks, the meter shall be treated as a separate measuring instrument for purpose of calibration.

(b) The compartment capacity or capacities shall be taken as including the capacities of the delivery lines leading from the emergency, safety or master valve to the outlet valve (discharge valve) provided that in the case of vehicle compartments terminating in a single delivery pipeline fitted with an outlet valve, the compartment capacity or capacities shall be taken as excluding the capacity of the delivery pipeline. A notice shall be prominently exhibited on the vehicle tank indicating clearly and indelibly the following:

Marked capacity includes capacity of delivery line

Marked capacity excludes capacity of delivery line as the case may be. The safety or master valve shall be positioned at the lowest point of outlet from the compartment.

(c) The proving measure or bulk meter should be mounted on an overhead gantry or a separate framework in a convenient position above a firm and level platform, preferably of concrete on which the vehicle stands during calibration.

(d) The vehicle shall be placed in a level position before commencing calibration as the accuracy of calibration depends on the level of the tank; the sequence in which compartments are calibrated should be such as to minimise unequal spring deflection on the axles of the vehicle.

(e) The front and rear tyres of the vehicle should be at the correct pressures. The tyres should be inspected for wear which should be reasonably even and there should not be excessive difference in wear in the tread between the front set of tyres and the rear set at the time of calibration.

(f) The interior of the compartment should be inspected and cleaned where necessary.

(g) Before starting calibration, the pipelines, outlet valves and other connections shall be tested against leakage by partially filling and draining each compartment in turn through the outlet valve. During the process sufficient quantity of the testing medium should be introduced inside the compartment to wet the internal surface of the tank and pipelines.

(h) After taking the precautions mentioned above, the compartment to be calibrated shall be filled with appropriate proving measures or bulk meters to the marked capacity of the compartment, with the delivery lines leading to the outlet valve full or empty as provided in (b) above. The dip/ullage mark shall be taken carefully and the line shall be cut on the dip/ullage stick at right angles to the axis with the help of try-square and scriber. If an ullage indicator is used, it shall be correctly set and sealed.

(i) A mark should also be made on the dip stick to indicate the "proof line" which is the level of the top surface of the dip pipe. In the case of ullage stick, the distance from the ullage point to the T-joint should be marked on the stick.

(j) Each compartment should be left full before proceeding to the next in sequence.

5. Permissible Errors: (a) Proving measures shall have the following capacities and shall be adjusted within the following permissible errors.

Capacity Litres.	Permissible Error Millilitres.
50	50
100	100
200	200
500	500
1000	1000
1500	1500
2000	2000
5000	5000

(b) The maximum error for vehicle tank compartments shall be 0.05 per cent. in excess of the marked capacity of the compartments.

6. Markings: (a) The vehicle shall have a brass plate rivetted in a prominent position on it to receive the Inspector's stamps. The brass plate shall bear the following particulars: title of Weights and Measures Act, name of owner of vehicle, vehicle registration number, and the serial number and capacity of each compartment. Space should be provided on the plate for the Inspector's stamps. Fig. 1 shows a simple design for a plate.

(b)The capacity of the compartment shall be indelibly marked on the manhole cover of the compartment and also painted on each side of the compartment so that it is clearly visible. If there are more than one compartments, then each compartment shall have its capacity marked separately as above and the compartments numbered serially. The number of the compartment shall also be marked on the discharge valve pertaining to the compartment.

(c) The vehicle registration number as well as the capacity of the compartment shall be indelibly marked on the dip/ullage stick at the top end. If there is more than one compartment, the different faces of one dip stick may be used for markings and each face shall bear the vehicle number, the serial number of the compartment, the proof and dip lines of that compartment and the capacity of the compartment.

GOVERNMENT OF WEST BENGAL

LABOUR DEPARTMENT

ORDERS

No. 3232-I.R./IR/8L-15(A)/62.—27th July 1964. —Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, order No. 7589-I.R./IR/8L-14(E)/61, dated the 8th December 1961, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Keshoram Industries & Cotton Mills Ltd. 42 Garden Reach Road, Calcutta-24, and their workmen represented by Garden Reach Textile Workers' Union, 77 Akra Road, Calcutta-24, regarding the issue mentioned in the said order, being a matter specified in the second schedule to the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), was referred to the First Industrial Tribunal for adjudication;

And whereas during the pendency of proceedings before the said Industrial Tribunal Shri Sattar Khan, a workman of the said Company, made a complaint in writing to the said Industrial Tribunal against the said Company alleging that the said Company had refused employment to the said workman concerned in such dispute;

And whereas in exercise of the powers conferred by section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the said Industrial Tribunal has adjudicated upon the said complaint and submitted its award to the State Government;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act filed by Shri Sattar Khan, T. No. 340, Carding "B" shift, a workman of Messrs. Kesoram Industries & Cotton Mills Ltd., 42 Garden Reach Road, Calcutta-24, against the aforesaid Company in connection with G.O. No. 7589-I.R./IR/8L-14(E)/61, dated 8th December 1961. (Case No. 128 of 1963 under section 33A.)

BEFORE THE FIRST INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri RENUPADA MUKHERJEE, Judge.
First Industrial Tribunal.

This is an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act by one Sattar Khan who was a workman under the opposite party Company Messrs. Kesoram Industries & Cotton Mills Ltd. The allegation of the workman is that he was a permanent and regular workman of the Company working as a doffer in Line No. 4 of Carding Department sine 1959. The petitioner was refused employment since 2nd August 1963 on various pretext. An industrial dispute was pending between the Company and its workmen at the time of the filing of this application. The petitioner was concerned in this dispute and the Company has illegally and arbitrarily refused employment to the petitioner during the pendency of the dispute in contravention of the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act. So the petitioner has prayed for reinstatement to his former job with full compensation for the period of unemployment.

On behalf of the Company a preliminary objection was taken that the petition is not maintainable and the Tribunal has no jurisdiction to entertain the application of the workman inasmuch as from the documents of the Company it would be clear that there has been no violation of any of the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

When the case was called on for hearing on 27th June 1964, I was informed by the representatives of both parties that the matter has been amicably settled between the Company and the workman who filed the application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act. On behalf of the workman an application was also filed for withdrawal of his application.

I am satisfied that the workman has amicably settled the matter with the Company and he is not desirous of proceeding with his appliation. He is permitted to withdraw his application.

Taken at my dictation and corrected by me.

RENUPADA MUKHERJEE,
Judge.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Podder Iron Industries, "V" Road, Dasnagar, Howrah, and their workmen represented by the Iron & Steel Workmen's Union, 172 Beneras Road, Salkia, Howrah. (Case No. VIII-90/64.)

BEFORE THE FIRST INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri RENUPADA MUKHERJEE, Judge,
First Industrial Tribunal.

This industrial dispute was referred to this Tribunal for adjudication under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act by the Government of West Bengal by its Labour Department order No. 1245-I.R./IR/10L-27/64, dated, Calcutta, the 24th March 1964. One party to the reference is Messrs. Podder Iron Industries (hereinafter to be described as the Company) and the other party their workmen represented by Iron & Steel Workmens' Union (hereinafter to be described as the Union). The only issue referred to this Tribunal is the following:—

Bonus payable before the Puja of 1963 to all sections of workmen including those retrenched as per notice of the management, dated 4th September 1963.

After notices had been issued to the Company and the Union a few adjournments were taken by both sides. The case was adjourned to 25th June 1964 for filing written statement by the Union. Instead of filing any written statement on that date the General Secretary of the Union filed a petition on 13th June 1964 stating that the dispute has been "fully and finally settled amicably out of Court". After hearing the learned representatives of both parties I am satisfied that there has been a fair and bona fide settlement of the dispute. I, therefore, pass a no-dispute award in this case. The petition filed on behalf of the Union which has been endorsed by Shri J. R. Jain on behalf of the Company will form an annexure to my award.

BEFORE THE SEVENTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri S. K. Ray, Judge Seventh Industrial Tribunal.

AWARD

This proceeding arises out of an application under section 33A Industrial Disputes Act filed by the applicant workman, Shri Deo Kumar Show. It is complained in the application that he was refused employment orally on 9th September 1963 when he reported for duty after having returned from home when he went on sanctioned leave from 22nd July 1963. It is alleged that his leave expired on 7th August 1963, but he failed to report for duty on that date, as he was detained at home by his wife's serious illness, and he reported this fact to the Company, on being informed that the Company required him to join his duties immediately, he came back and reported for duty on 9th September 1963, but was refused employment. This happened when the adjudication proceedings of another dispute between the Company and its workmen, referred to this Tribunal by Government Order No. 3537-I.R./IR/10L-97/62, dated the 6th August 1962, were pending, but there was no compliance with the relevant provisions of section 33, Industrial Disputes Act. It is finally contended that the refusal of employment to him was in contravention of the relevant provisions of section 33, Industrial Disputes Act, and was also unjustified and illegal and the Company acted with an ulterior moitve and in a spirit of victimisation in refusing employment to him. He claims reinstatement to service with full wages for the period of unemployment.

The Company has appeared and filed its written statement. The relevant case put forward by the Company is that the Company did not refuse employment to this workman at all, but he resigned from the service of the Company due to his ill-health and the resignation was accepted by the Company and thereafter he accepted all his legal dues from the Company including the provident fund money. It is averred that in these circumstances, there was no contravention of any provision of section 33, Industrial Disputes Act, and the workman is not entitled to any relief.

After preliminary proceedings, the case was first fixed for hearing on 29th June 1964. On that date, none appeared for the applicant and no step was taken on his behalf. In order to give one more chance to the workman to appear and prosecute his application, the Tribunal suo moto adjourned the case to 4th July 1964 with a remark that if there was no appearance by the applicant workman on that date, the case would be disposed of according to law. On 4th July 1964 none appeared for the workman and no step was taken on his behalf. In these circumstances, the case was taken up for hearing in the presence of the Company only. The Company adduced evidence in support of its case. I have already stated above the respective cases of the parties. It would be sufficient only to state here that the workman's case is that he was unjustly and illegally refused employment on 9th September 1963, in contravention of the relevant provisions of section 33, Industrial Disputes Act, which applied to the alleged refusal of employment in view of the pendency of the adjudication proceedings of another dispute between the Company and its workmen, already refused to this Tribunal and, as against this, the Company's clear case is that there was no refusal of employment by the Company to this workman, as alleged, but the workman himself resigned from the Company's service and after his resignation was accepted, he took payment of all his legal dues from the Company, including the provident fund money and went away. The workman has not appeared at all to produce evidence in support of his case. The Company has appeared and produced its evidence, oral and documentary, in support of its case. P.W. 1 Shri Rathindra Nath Ganguli, Labour Officer of the Company, has testified in support of the Company's case and has proved the resignation letter of the workman with the endorsement of acceptance of resignation by the Works Manager [Exts. A and A(1)] and the receipted vouchers showing that after acceptance of the resignation, the workman took payment of all his legal dues from the Company, including the provident fund money [Ext. B to B(2)]. On the Company's evidence, which remains unchallenged and unrebutted, I hold that there was no refusal of employment by the Company to this workman, but he voluntarily resigned from the Company's service and went away taking all his legal dues, including the provident fund money. There could, therefore, be no contravention of any relevant provision of section 33, though the adjudication proceedings of another dispute between the Company and its workmen, referred to this Tribunal, was pending when the resignation took effect and so this application under section 33A is not maintainable and there is also no merits in the applicant's case, because it was not a case of refusal of employment to him but a case of his voluntary resignation. The workman's application must, therefore, fail.

In the result, I reject the workman's application under section 33A and award that the Company did not refuse employment to him, as alleged, but he voluntarily resigned from the Company's services and went away taking payment of all his legal dues from the Company, and so, he is not entitled to any relief.

AWARD

This is a complaint under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, lodged by a workman Shri Kalpu Koiree against his employer Messrs. Britannia Building and Iron Co. Ltd. (hereinafter be referred to as the Company).

His case in short is that while he was in service of the Company, was granted two months' leave from 8th March 1961 on ground of his mother's illness, that during the period of the leave he himself fell ill and by an application, dated 6th May 1961 applied for extension of the leave for one month. The Company by letter, dated 11th May 1961 directed him to send a medical certificate in suport of his application for extension of the leave, that a medical certificate was sent but in spite of that his name was struck off and he was informed of this by letter, dated 25th May 1961. He returned from home on 5th July 1961 and wanted to resume his duties but he was not allowed to join as his name was already struck off. His grievance is that his name was wrongfully struck off.

The Company—opposite party has resisted the application by filing a written objection in which it has been stated that the wokman having overstayed his leave without permission his service was automatically terminated in accordance with the provisions of the standing order and as such it was not a case of discharge or dismissal to attract the provisions of the proviso to section 33(2)(b) of the Industrial Disputes Act. Therefore, there has been no contravention of the provisions of section 33 as alleged by the Union. The application is accordingly not maintainable.

In an application of this nature two points require to be considered: They are—

(1) whether there has been contravention of the provisions of section 33, and

(2) whether there was justification for order of dismissal or discharge.

It may be noted that the petitioner workman did not care to proceed with the application. He did not turn up on the date fixed for hearing of the application, nor did he take any step. He having been found absent on repeated calls even after waiting for long, there was no other alternative than to dismiss the application for default and for want of proper prosecution. The Company's representative made submissions on the preliminary point raised by the Company in the written objection as to the maintainability of the present appliaction. But I do not propose to go into that question in absence of evidence. But apparently the petitioner went on leave for two months with effect from 8th March 1961. So he was due to resume his duties on 8th May 1961 on the expiry of the leave. But before that date admittedly he applied for extension of the leave by one month more on ground of his own illness (vide para. 8 of the Company's written objection). That application was according to the Company not supported by any medical certificate but according to the petitioner there was a supporting medical certificate subsequently sent. Of course, there is no evidence or no copy of the alleged medical certificate on the record, or no date of the medical certificate or of despatch thereof is mentioned in the application. However, it is admitted that the petitioner applied for extension of the leave before expiry of the leave originally granted to him. So, it is not a case of over-staying without intimation to the employer. But proper intimation was sent of his intended absence for another one month on ground of his own illness. Therefore, it is difficult to treat this case as an automatic termination as per provision in the standing orders. Be that as it may, in absence of any evidence it is not possible to come to any definite conclusion. The petitioner did not care to adduce any evidence or to proceed with the application or to take proper steps in the case. So, I am to dismiss this application for default and for want of proper prosecution.

AWARD

By order No. 1525-I.R./IR/10L-224/62, dated the 11th April 1963, the Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, the industrial dispute between Messrs. Issues

1. Whether the closure of the factory is real and bona fide? Whether the closure is beyond the control of the management and in the circumstances it is justified?
2. To what relief, if any, are the workmen entitled?

This reference was received from the Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department for adjudication of an industrial dispute existing between Messrs. Everest Tools Manufacturing Co. (hereinafter be referred to as the Company) and their workmen represented by Everest Tools Manufacturing Workers' Union (hereinafter be referred to as the Union).

Immediately after receipt of the reference, processes were issued to the parties who entered appearances and filed their written statements. Parties having completed all procedural steps the case was taken up for hearing on 13th July 1964. The learned Advocates representing the two rival parties opened their cases at length. Some evidence was adduced on the side of Union. At this stage there was a talk of compromise. Both parties having expressed sincere desire to settle up the dispute amicably, every opportunity was given to them in the matter of peaceful settlement of the industrial dispute.

I am glad to record that the parties succeeded in settling the dispute under reference to this Tribunal amicably and peacefully. The terms of settlement have been incorporated in a joint petition of compromise filed before this Tribunal on this day (14th July 1964). I have gone through the terms of settlement and I am satisfied that they are fair and reasonable in the present circumstances of the parties. So, I accept the terms of settlement and make a "no dispute" award as prayed for by the parties, on compromise. The joint petition of compromise filed before this Tribunal on this day (14th July 1964) do form part of the compromise award as annexure.

This is my award.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Power & Machinery Construction Co. (Private) Ltd., Mercantile Buildings, 10/1D Lal Bazar Street, Calcutta-1, and their workmen represented by West Bengal : Engineering Workers' Union, 48 Dharamtala Street, Calcutta-13 (G. O. BEFORE THE FOURTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL, CALCUTTA.

Present:

Shri R. BHATTACHARYA, Judge, Fourth Industrial Tribunal.

For the Company: Shri J. Gupta, Labour Advisor.

For the Union: Shri S. Roy Chowdhury, Vice-President of the Union.

This is a reference under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act over a dispute between Messrs. Power & Machinery Construction Co. (P.) Ltd. and their workmen represented by the West Bengal Engineering Workers' Union, over the following issue for adjudication:—

Issue

Whether the refusal of employment to Shri Satya Ranjan Chakraborty is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

After receipt of due notices, both the parties submitted their written statements in this case. In short the case of the West Bengal Engineering Workers' Union (hereinafter described as the Union), is that Shri Satya Ranjan Chakraborty was a Turner in the Lathe Machine Department. For a period he was demoted to the rank of a grinder. He was, however, placed in his former position. He fell ill and was treated by an E.S.I. panel doctor from 6th February 1963 to 19th March 1963. On account of illness he could not join the factory. On 20th March 1963 he obtained a fit certificate from the said doctor and went to resume his duties in the factory. The company, however, refused to allow him to work. On the following day he sent a registered letter to the company stating his grievances but the company made no reply to that letter. This refusal of work to Shri Chakraborty was illegal and unjustified. No charge sheet or notice was issued to him. The action of the Power & Machinery Construction Co. (P.) Ltd. (hereinafter described as the company), has been characterised as illegal, mala fide and unjustified.

The company, in its written statement, denied the allegations made by the Union. Its case is that the order of reference is illegal, that the dispute is not an industrial dispute, that the union has no locus standi to represent the workmen concerned, that on 20th March 1963 the workman presented himself at the factory after long absence declined to do any work, collected his dues and left the factory, and that the company never refused to give any work to Shri Chakraborty. In short, the company wants to say that it was the workman concerned who left the service and that even subsequently when the company asked Shri Chakraborty to join the service by a letter, dated 10th July 1963, the offer was refused. The story of illegal, unjustified and mala fide action on the part of the company has been denied.

Several documents have been admitted in evidence on both the sides. On the side of the union the workman in question Shri Chakraborty has been examined as P.W.1, and Shri Sripati Kumar Bhattacharya, the Superintendent of the company, has been examined as O.P.W.1. on the side of the employer.

The first contention raised from the side of the company is that at the time when the reference was made to this Tribunal, there was no dispute between the parties. In order to support this contention Shri Gupta on behalf of the company has referred me to the copy of the letter sent by the company to the workman on 10th July 1963. This is Ext. C. Admittedly, previous to this letter the company's case was that it did not refuse any work to Shri Chakraborty and that story is still continuing even in the present case. The case of the other side is that Shri Chakraborty was refused employment on 20th March 1963 when he went to the factory to join his duties. In Ext. C there is no mention about the wages or compensation from 20th March 1963. Even at present the story of refusal of work to the workman is not admitted. In these circumstances, I must say that there has been always a dispute as to whether or not any work was refused to Shri Chakraborty on and from 20th March 1963. I hold, therefore, that the present dispute has always been there and naturally there was reason for this reference.

The next point canvassed from the side of the company is that the union has no authority to appear on behalf of the workman, and that this is an individual dispute. In this connection the evidence of P.W.1 is to be noted. He has stated that he is a member of the union and other workmen of this company are also members of the same union. Admittedly, this union espoused the cause of the workman of this company. When it has been proved that the workmen of this company are members of this union and that this union has taken up the cause of the workmen, I must hold that the present dispute is an industrial dispute and not an individual dispute. I further find that the union has locus standi and authority to represent the workmen of the company in the present reference.

The third and the last point, I should say the most important point, is whether the company refused employment to Shri Chakraborty or whether Shri Chakraborty of his own accord ceased coming to the factory and gave up the service. Shri Chakraborty has stated on oath that he fell ill and was treated by an E.S.I. panel doctor. He has further stated that he obtained a fit certificate from the said doctor and attended the factory on 20th March 1963 to resume his duty under the company. His evidence further shows that he handed over the fit certificate to the company but Goswami Babu of the company, before whom papers were to be submitted, refused to accept the fit certificate. That certificate has been exhibited in this case. It is marked Ext. 4. It is dated 19th March 1963 and it was issued in the form prescribed by the Employees State Insurance Corporation. There is no evidence adduced on the side of the company to challenge its genuineness. There is no reliable evidence on the side of the company that Shri Chakraborty was not ill from 6th March 1963 to 19th March 1963. P.W.1 has definitely stated that he was not allowed to work in the factory. It appears that he had a talk with some members of the management who also refused to allow him to work in the factory. He has stated that on 20th March 1963 he was offered wages for the month of February. He accepted them and he gave his signature on the record of the company for the month of February 1963. As against the evidence of P.W.1, O.P.W.1 has been examined. He is the Superintendent of the company. He has clearly stated that he has no personal knowledge about Shri Chakraborty's presence in the factory on 20th March 1963. In this case Goswami Babu has not been examined. Nobody has been examined on the side of the company to show that Shri Chakraborty refused to work on 20th March 1963 or on subsequent days or that he was unwilling to work under the company. No reason has been assigned by the company for non-examination of a competent witness to prove that, in fact, Shri Chakraborty was not willing to work under the company. O.P.W.1 has stated in reply to my question that there is no note in any office record to show that Shri Chakraborty refused to work under the company. This statement is significant. Had there been any refusal from Shri Chakraborty to work under the company on 20th March 1963, there would have been some note in the records of the company to that effect. It is also strange that after 20th March 1963 the company did not ask for any explanation from Shri Chakraborty either regarding his absence or his alleged refusal to work under the company. Moreover, P.W.1 sent a registered letter on 21st March 1963, immediately after refusal of work to him. The letter is Ext. 6. The letter was sent under registered post. The acknowledgment receipt is Ext. 5. It was received by the company on 23rd March 1963. It is to be noted again that the company did not care to reply to this letter. The company did not challenge the story immediately after receipt of Ext. 6. In Ext. 6 Shri Chakraborty made a serious complaint to the Director of the Company. This letter was left uncared for. In this connection the provision of the Standing Orders of the company should be noted. Section J, at page 14 of the Standing Orders, marked Ext. 10, says that an investigation is to be made regarding complaints arising out of employment including those relating to unfair treatment. When Shri Chakraborty made a complaint about refusal of work to him, the company should have taken steps to enquire into the matter. O.P.W.1 has stated that he did not hold any enquiry over the letter. However, there is no evidence that any step was taken on Ext. 6. The conduct of the company and the circumstances clearly show that the actions of the company were mala fide. The evidence shows that P.W.1 was an organiser of the union. He was also demoted for a period. Shri Chakraborty protested against such demotion. It is very reasonable to hold in the present case that the company and its management were not only unsympathetic towards Shri Chakraborty, but, in fact, they had antipathy and bore grudge against Shri Chakraborty. It is clear from the facts of the case that the company wanted to avoid Shri Chakraborty and get rid of him from the service. I have no manner of doubt in my mind to accept the evidence of Shri Chakraborty and to hold that on 20th March 1963 Shri Chakraborty after illness presented the fit certificate to resume his duty in the factory but he was not allowed to join his duty. Subsequently however, the company sent a letter, dated 10th July 1963, a copy of which is Ext. C, asking Shri Chakraborty to be present at the factory on 15th July 1963 so that suitable work might be allotted to him. It is curious to note that in this letter there is no mention about the wages from 20th March 1963. There is no mention in this letter as to whether he would be reinstated in his former place or whether he would be employed afresh. This Ext. C is not a straight-forward letter. The aggrieved workman on receipt of this letter wanted to know the actual position and sent a letter on 14th July 1963. The company has denied to have received such letter. I cannot accept the version of the company. Ext. 8 is the copy of the letter. Ext. 8(a) is the certificate of posting in respect of this letter. There is no evidence that the address given on the certificate of posting is wrong. In Ext. 8 Shri Chakraborty wanted to ascertain as to whether he would get any remuneration for the period of non-employment and whether he would get his former service. The company, I must hold, must have received this letter but it did not care to reply to the same. This conduct of the company is most unreasonable. This shows the want of bona fides on the part of the company. It is no wonder to hold that the company has been all along harassing Shri Chakraborty. However, on consideration of the evidence on record and the circumstances of this case, I hold that the company did refuse employment to Shri Chakraborty on and from 20th March 1963. The letter, Ext. C, is a camouflage and a mala fide play on the part of the company. The suggestion that Shri Chakraborty did not voluntarily join his duty ono and from 20th March 1963 is unacceptable. This is certainly a case of victimisation and unfair labour practice. The refusal of employment to Shri Chakraborty by the company was illegal, mala fide and unjustified. The next question that arises for consideration relates to the relief to be given to the aggrieved workman. The evidence shows that after being unemployed from 20th March 1963 Shri Chakraborty managed to secure a service elsewhere on and from 1st July 1963, and he was getting better remuneration there. In this company he was getting Rs. 4.50 nP. per day whereas in the new employment he was getting Rs. 5 per day. Shri Chakraborty during the evidence has claimed compensation for the period of non-employment. He does not want reinstatement. This is very natural for Shri Chakraborty. The evidence shows that the company used to pay remuneration to Shri Chakraborty, a permanent workman, on the principles of "no work no pay". In these circumstances, therefore, I allow compensation to Shri Chakraborty payable by the company for the period of non-employment from 20th March 1963 to 31st May 1963 at the rate of Rs. 4.50 nP. for all the working days of the factory during the period. I further allow cost of this proceeding to the union payable by the company. The cost is assessed Rs. 50 in lump. The award must be implemented within a month from the date of publication of this award in the "Calcutta Gazette".

Shri K. P. MUKHERJEE, Judge.

Appearances:

For the Applicants workmen: Shri Patit Paban Pathak.

AWARD

This proceeding arises out of an application under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, made by Shri Kanai Chandra Ash, Shri Ram Narayan Mondal and Md. Khalil, workmen under the Opposite Party—Messrs. Aluminium Corporation of India Ltd. at its factory at Jaykaynagar, complaining that they were illegally and unjustifiably suspended from service on false and frivolous ground during the pendency of a dispute and the employer has thereby contravened the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947. The allegation made in the petition is that the petitioners were charge-sheeted and were kept under suspension for an indefinite period in violation of established principles of natural justice and this amounted to a change of condition of service. It is alleged that the suspension was nothing but a mala fide and vindictive punishment inflicted upon them without there being any approved rules or standing orders of the company providing for such punishment. The petitioners have prayed for their reinstatement on the ground that there has been violation of the provision of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 by their employers during the pendency of an industrial dispute before this Tribunal. The application has been opposed by the employers of the petitioners—Messrs. Aluminium Corporation of India Ltd. on several grounds. It is pleaded that there has been no violation of the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 on the part of the company, and as such, the application under section 33A of the Act is bad in law and not maintainable. It is also pleaded that the suspension of the petitioners pending enquiry into the charge-sheets which were issued against them, does not amount to punishment as contemplated under section 33(2)(b) of the Act and that being so, the application under section 33A is misconceived and not maintainable. It is pleaded that the petitioners are not entitled to any relief under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act and the application is liable to be dismissed.

Decision

The undisputed facts which gave rise to this application, shortly stated, are this. The 3 petitioners were employed as Aluminium Charter Drivers in the factory of the Opposite Party Messrs. Aluminium Corporation of India Limited at Jaykaynagar. During the pendency of an industrial dispute between the company and its workmen before this Tribunal, charge-sheet was issued to Md. Khalil on 9th November 1963 and to Kanai Chandra Ash and Ram Narayan Mondal on 12th November 1963. Following the issue of the charge-sheets Md. Khalil and Kanai Chandra Ash were suspended with effect from 13th November 1963 and Ram Narayan Mondal was suspended from 14th November 1963. The workmen concerned submitted replies to the charge-sheets issued to them and an enquiry was held into the charge-sheets and the enquiry officer submitted his report on 12th December 1963. After the enquiry officer submitted his report and before the management considered and took a decision on the report of the enquiry officer, the workmen concerned filed the present application alleging contravention of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act by their employers. It is now well settled that a dismissed employee would not succeed in obtaining an order of reinstatement under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act merely by proving contravention of section 33 by the employer. It would be still open to employer to justify the impugned order of dismissal on merits because the complaint made by the employee is treated as an industrial dispute. An enquiry under section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act is thus not confined only to the determination of the question as to whether the alleged contravention by the employer of the provisions of section 33 has been proved or not. The tribunal would have also to consider whether the impugned orders of dismissal are otherwise justified and whether in the light of the relevant facts and circumstances of each particular case an order of reinstatement should or should not be passed. In order to succeed the petitioners in this case will have in the first place to prove that there has been a contravention by the employer of the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act. The statement made in paragraph 3 of the petition is somewhat vague as it does not specifically state which particular provision of section 33 which has been contravened. The allegation made in paragraph 3 is that suspension for an indefinite period of the petitioners is not only illegal but in violation of established principles of natural justice and amounts to a change of condition of service. It is not understood how suspension on the ground of an alleged misconduct amounts to a change of condition of service. It has been submitted by Shri Pathak appearing for the workmen that suspension of the petitioners amounts to punishment which is not provided for in the standing orders of the company and this suspension for an indefinite period amounts to punishments as contemplated in section 33(2)(b) of the Act and there has been violation of section 33 inasmuch as such punishment by way of suspension is not provided in the standing orders of the Company. The contention raised by Shri Pathak does not appear to have much force in it and cannot be accepted. According to him, the Opposite Party has contravened the provisions of section 33(2)(b) of the Act inasmuch as the order of suspension is mala fide and amounts to punishment as contemplated in section 33(2)(b) of the Act. It appears from the order of suspension (Ext. C series) that the petitioners were suspended pending enquiry and final disposal of the cases against them. It has been held in the case of Sasamusa Sugar Works (P.) Ltd., v. Shobrati Khan and others reported in 1959 (II) L.L.J., 388 and in Lakshmi Debi Sugar Mills Ltd. v. Ram Swaroop & ors., reported in 1957 (I) L.L.J., 17, that suspension pending enquiry would not be considered as punishment. In the latter case, it has been held that suspension without pay even for an indefinite period pending enquiry or pending permission of the appropriate Tribunal to dismiss the workmen would not be held to be punishment which would require permission of the Tribunal before the same could be meted out to the workmen. This view is also supported in the case of Jaipur Spinning and Weaving Mills Ltd., and Government of Rajasthan & ors., reported in 1959 (II) L.L.J., 649 wherein it has been held that suspension pending departmental enquiry and pending the necessary permission of the Industrial Tribunal under section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act even though for an indefinite duration cannot be characterised as punishment within the meaning of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act. It is thus clear from the above mentioned decisions that mere suspension pending enquiry does not amount to punishment so as to attract the provision of section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act. If the petitioners are aggrieved by the order of suspension and consider it to be illegal, they are at liberty to raise a dispute over that issue, but so long as they are not punished by way of discharge or dismissal for any misconduct unconnected with the dispute pending before this Tribunal, it cannot be said that there has been violation of the provisions of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act. In this view of the matter, I hold that the application is not maintainable in law as the petitioners have failed to prove that there has been contravention of section 33 of the Industrial Disputes Act by their employers.

In view of my finding that there has been no contravention of the provisions of section 33 of the Act, it is not necessary for me to consider the merits of the case. The petition is accordingly rejected. This is my award.

AWARD

By order No. 3094-I.R./IR/11L-217/63, dated the 2nd August 1963, the Government of West Bengal, in the Labour Department, referred under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, the industrial dispute between Messrs. P. C. Chandra & Sons, 127/1A Bipin Behari Ganguly Street, Calcutta-12, and their workmen represented by the Calcutta Gold Smithy & Jewellery Workers Union, 16/17 College Street, Room No. 51, Calcutta-12, regarding the matter specified in the schedule, to the Third Industrial Tribunal, constituted under section 7A of the Industrial Disputes Act, by notification No. 808-I.R./IR/3A-2/57, dated the 11th March 1957, for adjudication.

Issue

Puja bonus payable in 1962.

This reference was received from the Government of West Bengal for adjudication of an industrial dispute said to be existing between Messrs. P. C. Chandra & Sons, 127/1A Bipin Behari Ganguly Street, Calcutta-12 (hereinafter be referred to as the Company), and their workmen represented by the Calcutta Gold Smithy & Jewellery Workers' Union, 16/17 College Street, Room No. 51, Calcutta-12 (hereinafter be referred to as the Union).

As usual, immediately after receipt of the reference notices were issued to both parties for service. They were served and both parties entered their appearances and filed written statements. The case was on the hearing list on 24th March 1964 when the Union asked for an adjournment on the ground that Union's President Shri Anandi Das was not available on that date as he is reported to have resorted to hunger strike and he will break the hunger strike in the evening on that very day. There was an adjournment granted on that ground. The next date was 20th May 1964. On that date the Union did not take any step for hearing of the case. So, the case was adjourned to this day (16th July 1964) for hearing. The Company has come ready for hearing of the case but the Union, as before, does not appear or has not taken any step whatsoever. Therefore, in the circumstances, I am to conclude that the dispute under reference is no longer in existence and accordingly I make a "no dispute" award.

I may, however, observe that the present reference relates to claim of puja bonus payable in 1962 and that claim according to the Union's written statement is only in respect of 11 workmen mentioned in the annexure A to Union's written statement who were employed in the Company's workshop at C.I.T. Road. Company's main business is located in premises No. 127/1A, Bipin Behari Ganguly Street. According to the Company no bonus was paid to the workmen employed in the workshop at C.I.T. Road, and that workshop, according to the written statement of the Company, remains completely paralysed for long because of illegal strike and other subversive activities of the said workmen.

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Indian Standard Wagon Company Ltd., P.O. Burnpur, district Burdwan and their workmen represented by United Iron and Steel Workers' Union, Bari Smriti Bhaban, Subhas Pally, P.O. Burnpur, district Burdwan. (Case No. VIII-243/63.)

The Government of West Bengal by its Labour Department Order No. 4277-I.R./IR/10L-33(A)/63, dated 10th October 1963, referred to this Tribunal an industrial dispute between Messrs. Indian Standard Wagon Company Ltd., P.O. Burnpur, district Burdwan (hereinafter referred to as the Company), and their workmen represented by United Iron and Steel Workers' Union, Bari Smriti Bhaban, Subhas Pally, P.O. Burnpur, district Burdwan (hereinafter referred to as the Union), for adjudication under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

The only issue framed in this case for adjudication runs as follows:—

Is the superannuation of Shri Abdul Sovan justified? What relief, if any, is he entitled to?

AWARD

Both the parties filed their respective written statements after receipt of notice of this reference, and the matter was fixed for hearing at Asansole Camp. The parties entered appearance through their lawyers and representatives at the hearing. The Union's written statement shows that Abdul Sovan was employed in the Company at Burnpur. He entered the service of the Company in 1945. Subsequently in 1948 his Service Card was prepared showing that he was aged 46 on 27th July 1498. The Company had no age of superannuation when Sovan was appointed. The age of superannuation was introduced subsequently at 60. According to the Company, Sovan attained the age of superannuation on 30th September 1962, and as such a notice was issued to him to retire on that date, and Sovan was given no work thereafter. Sovan complains that he has not attained the age of superannuation. It is not in dispute that the age of superannuation is 60. Sovan's case is that he was born in 1916, and before he entered the service under the Indian Standard Wagon Company, he used to serve in Cossipore Gun and Shell Factory, where his service record was prepared for the first time. Sovan relies upon that service record in support of his age and challenges the superannuation imposed upon him by the Company.

The Company in their written statement submitted that though there was no age of superannuation in 1945 when Sovan entered the service of the Company, there was a census of age and other particulars in respect of all employees of the Company in 1948. On the basis of the aforesaid census, service records of workers were prepared, and Sovan's record shows that he was 46 years old on 27th July 1948, and calculating the age of superannuation at 60 Sovan was asked to retire on 30th September 1962. According to the Company, the records were prepared on datas furnished by the workman himself.

Decision

There are certain uncontroversial facts. Sovan was appointed in 1945 at a time when the Company had no age of superannuation. Subsequently, the age of superannuation was fixed at 60. The Union accepts the position that the age of superannuation in the Company is 60. That age of superannuation applies to Sovan and there is no controversy on this point. Sovan alleges that he did not attain the age of superannuation on 30th September 1962 when he was asked to retire. The onus is on the Company to prove that Sovan attained the age of superannuation on the aforesaid date. Let us analyse the evidence on which the Company relies. In 1948, a circular was issued directing a census of workers of the Company. In that circular it was directed that information should be collected in form "A" attached to that circular. The relevant circular is Ext. B and a specimen form is filed. It shows a column as to the age of the workman. There is however no evidence that in fact form "A" was filled by the workmen themselves. O.P.W. 2 Shri Sital Prosad Ghosh, who is an employee of the Company, gave evidence on behalf of the Company, but he could not say whether he himself filled up this form "A". In form "A" had been filled up, it is expected that would be on the Company's record. But the form "A" has not been filed in this particular case. There is also no evidence on the side of the Company as to how form "A" was dealt with. It is not in evidence that the filled up "A" forms were destroyed or were lost. I would therefore presume that form "A" had never been filled up by the workmen or at least by Sovan in this particular case. It is the evidence of O.P.W. 1 S. A. Ahmed that the service record of each workman was prepared on the basis of form "A" as filled up by him. The service record of Sovan is Ext. E.

It shows Sovan's age as 46 years on 27th July 1947. Shri Ahmed is not competent to say why this record was prepared, because he entered the service of the Company long after its preparation. No. competent officer of the Company was examined to prove that in fact census was taken as directed in Ext. B, and that form "A" was filled up by the workmen or that service records were prepared on the basis statements as furnished by the workers in form "A". Sovan denies that any statement was taken from him at the time of preparation of his service record (Ext. E) in 1948. In Ext. C there was direction of the Company to obtain the signature or thumb-impression of the workmen in the service card of the respective workmen, but peculiarly enough the relevant column of Sovan's service card is blank. There is no reason given as to why Sovans' signature or thumb-impression was not taken on his service card (Ext. E). Had there been any signature of Sovan on his service card, the Company might have contended that the age as recorded by the Company in his service card, was accepted by Soavn. In this particular case, there is no such acceptance of the age as recorded in the service card by Sovan. Moreover, this carelessness on the part of the Company will go to show that the service records were not prepared with any scrupulous care. If the signature can be missing in the appropriate column in violation of the specific directive of the Company, I cannot accept that the age was recorded in the service card emanated from the workman, and it was just an age which was put in the service card irrespective of the actual age and unconnected with any statement made by the workman. The Company has accordingly failed to produce any record to show that Sovan attained the age of superannuation on 30th September 1962 and it thus failed to discharge the onus cast on it. Now I will turn to the evidence adduced by Sovan. He has stated on oath that he gave a correct statement of his age to his previous employer, i.e., Cossipore Gun & Shell Factory, and that age was recorded in the Indian Standard Wagon Company while joining this Company in 1945. There is no competent denial to this evidence of Sovan. Sovan has shown the original certificate granted by the Cossipore Gun & Shell Factory, and it shows that he was 26 years old when he was recruited in that factory in 1942 and his year of birth as recorded in that certificate was 1916. He subsequently joined this Company. The certificate granted by the Cossipore Gun & Shell Factory can be accepted in corroboration of his evidence that he was born in 1916. If Sovan gave a particular age and date of birth in the Cossipore Gun & Shell Factory, there is no reason why he should give a different date of birth, while entering the service of the Indian Standard Wagon Company.

There is some evidence to show that the Company is not favourably disposed towards Sovan. In 1953 his services were terminated along with others, and subsequently all the workers were reinstated after fighting up to the Supreme Court. Those workers were members of the Action Committee, which is the predecessor of the present Union –United Iron & Steel Workers' Union. Shri Ahmed admits that this Union is not recognised by the Company. Sovan is a member of the Executive Committee of that Union, and it is only likely that he incurred the displeasure of the Company because of the active association with this union. The Company's action in superannuating Sovan was prompted for his association with the Union. Considering all the aspects of the case, I come to the conclusion that Sovan did not attain the age of superannuation on 30th September 1962, and as such he should be deemed to have continued in service. The result is that he shall be given emloyment and is entitled to wages for the period from the date of his superannuation (30th September 1962) till the date of his reinstatement.

This is my award, and it will come into operation within one month of its publication in the "Calcutta Gazette".

And whereas the said Second Industrial Trbiunal has submitted to the State Government its award on the said industrial dispute;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Lakshmi Printing Works Ltd., 370 Upper Chitpur Road, Calcutta-6, and their workmen represented by Press Employees' Association, 249B Bowbazar Street, 1st floor, Calcutta-12. (Case No. VIII-25/64.)

BEFORE THE SECOND INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri A. P. BHATTACHARYA, Judge, Second Industrial Tribunal

Apperances:

For the Company: None.

For the Union: Shri Anil Das Chowdhury, Advocate.

The Government of West Bengal by its Labour Department Order No. 256-I.R./IR/13L-5/64, dated 29th January 1964, referred to this Tribunal an industrial dispute between Messrs. Lakshmi Printing Works Ltd., 370 Upper Chitpur Road, Calcutta-6, and their workmen represented by Press Employees' Association, 249B Bowbazar Street, 1st floor, Calcutta-12, for adjudication under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act.

The issue framed in this case for adjudication runs as follows:—

Whether the termination of service of the following workmen is justified? To what relief, if any, they are entitled?

(1) Apurba Kumar Guin.

(2) Paban Kumar Mandal.

(3) Sk. Imambox.

(4) Ashim Kumar Dey.

AWARD

After receipt of the reference, notices were duly served on the parties calling upon them to appear and file their respective written statements. The Union appeared and filed its written statement, but the Company did not. The matter was posted to 7th July 1964 for ex parte hearing. The Union's case is that the four workmen concerned in this dispute were associated with the Union and submitted a charter of demands in July 1963 (Ext. 1). This caused the annoyance of the Company towards these four workmen who took active part in the affairs of the Union. This is the evidence of P.W. 1 Shri Paban Kumar Mandal. His further evidence is that he worked in the Company up to 4th October 1963, and on that very date they were told that their service stood terminated with effect from the next day, i.e., from 5th October 1963, and this was in respect of Apurba, Paban and Imambox. P.W. 1 Shri Paban Kumar Mandal further states that they were victimised because of their association with the Union. No charge sheet was issued against these three workmen, nor was any enquiry held against them. This will appear from the evidence of Paban. That being the evidence on the side of the Union and in the absence of any evidence to the contrary on the side of the Company, the only inevitable conclusion is that Apurba, Paban and Imambox were victimised by the Management and their services were terminated on 5th October 1963 without any justification. They are, therefore, entitled to reinstatement with back wages with effect from 5th October 1963 till the date of their reinstatement, and their service should be deemed to be a continuous one without any break. Paban, Apurba and Imambox would get back wages at the rate of Rs. 70, Rs. 85 and Rs. 75, respectively, and this was their pay at the time of termination of service as stated by P.W. 1 Paban.

With regard to the other workman Shri Ashim Kumar Dey, the Union's written statement is silent as to how his service stood terminated. In paragraph 14 of the Union's written statement, the only allegation is that on a subsequent date his service was terminated. Ashim does not come up before this Tribunal nor does he adduce any evidence in support of his claim. The written statement of the Union as well as the evidence of P.W. 1 Shri Paban Kumar Mandal are silent as to the date of termination of service of Ashim. That being the case, Ashim is not entitled to any relief in this case. This is my award and it will come into operation wthin one month of its publication in the "Calcutta Gazette".

PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION, WEST BENGAL

General instructions to candidates applying in response to advertisements issued by the Commission for recruitment to posts by "Selection".

(1) Instructions regarding submission of application: Applications are to be made on the prescribed form which will be available from the office of the Public Service Commission, West Bengal, Anderson House (ground floor), Alipore, Calcutta-27, personally or on sending a large self-addressed envelope with stamps sufficient to cover the postage affixed to it. Candidates who are unable to obtain copies of the prescribed form may apply on any similar typed (not handwritten) form showing exactly the wording and spacing of the sample form published in the "Calcutta Gazette" of the 1st September, 1955, provided the blanks are filled up in the candidates' own handwriting.

(2) Concession in age to political sufferer: A candidate who before 15th August 1947 was detained, imprisoned, interned or externed on account of his/her activities in connection with the country's struggle for independence, not being convicted of an offence indicating moral turpitude, shall be entitled to a concession in respect of the upper age limit. The concession granted will be equal to the exact period of detention, imprisonment, internment or externment suffered up to a maximum of four years.

(3) Particulars and certificates required: Candidates should furnish evidence of their age, qualifications and previous experience together with certificates written not more than one year prior to the date of their applications, from responsible persons, testifying to their private character.

The Commission accepts only the age of a candidate as recorded in the Matriculation or the Secondary School Final/Leaving Certificate. In the case of a female candidate whose age is not recorded in the Matriculation or School Final Certificate, any of the following evidence of age is accepted by the Commission:—

1. A certificate from the Headmistress of the School, which she last attended, showing her exact age as recorded in the school register.

2. An affidavit regarding her age sworn by her father or mother or some other person in a position to know by having been present or heard of her birth at the time of occurrence.

3. A certificate regarding her age, from a Member of the Legislature or a gazetted officer, who must have known the candidate and her family, indicating clearly the evidence on the basis of which he/she satisfied himself/herself on the point

(4) Fee: Candidates must enclose with their applications a fee of Rs. 5/- in the form of a receipted chalan from a Government Treasury or the Reserve Bank of India under the head "XXI—Miscellaneous—Receipts of the Public Service Commission, West Bengal". Money orders, cheques, etc., in lieu of treasury chalans are not accepted. Postal orders, however, may be accepted from candidates. They should be crossed and made payable to "The Deputy Secretary, Public Service Commission, West Bengal". No application will be considered unless accompanied with the requisite application fee.

Candidates abroad may deposit their application fees with the High Commissioner of India or the Embassy, as the case may be, and obtain receipts for the same, which will have to be attached to their applications to be submitted to the Commission.

Candidates in Government service should make sure before depositing fee that their applications will be forwarded by their superior officers. In no case will the fee paid with the application be refunded.

Note.—A member of the Scheduled Caste or Scheduled Tribe claiming age concession must furnish with his application a certificate in original from a gazetted officer or a Member of Parliament or State Legislature belonging to the Scheduled Caste or Scheduled Tribe, specifying the particular caste or tribe to which he claims to belong.

(5) Address: Candidates should give their present address and should communicate at once any subsequent change of address.

(6) Canvassing: Any attempt on the part of candidates to enlist support of their applications through persons of influence or officials of Government will disqualify them for appointment. Spontaneous recommendation from persons interested in the candidates or otherwise known to them will be disregarded.

(7) Applications from candidates who are in permanent or temporary employment under any Government, a local or Statutory Body (e.g., Damodar Valley Corporation), in India will be rejected unless they are submitted through the appointing authority of their posts or service.

Candidates serving under Government or a local or Statutory Body should submit an advance copy in the prescribed form. The application fee should in such cases be attached to the advance copy and not to the original. The candidature of such applicants may not however be considered if the original applications do not reach the Commission's office within a fortnight from the closing date. Unless applications in original or advance copies with application fees are received within the closing date, late applications may be rejected.

(b) The reserve of taxation or other possible means of increase in the revenues of the Municipality. The rates at which each of the taxes mentioned in column 12 on the reverse are levied, other than tax on perons, should be stated here.

(c) A statement of all outstanding loans specifying, in respect of each loan, the date when taken the purpose (very briefly), the amount, the annual charges involved and the amount still payable.

(d) Any explanation in regard to receipts and expenditures to show the true financial position of the Municipality when each position is otherwise than the ordinary surplus would indicate.

(a) The ordinary surplus is insufficient, but general revision of assessment has been taken up and it is expected that Municpal revenue would be sufficiently augmented.

(b) Column 12 of application.

(1) Rates on holding at 6¼ per cent. on the annual value of holdings.

(2) Water rate at 7½ per cent. on the annual value of all holdings is in force.

The instalments are paid regularly on the prescribed dates.

All the outstanding loans totalling Rs. 3,00,000 excepting a very meagre sum amounting to Rs. 12,969 have since been fully repaid and the payments of the instalments were all made on the due dates. Hence the repayment of the instalments of this fresh loan can easily be met from the municipal finances which are expected to be augmented due to the general revision of assessment which would take effect from the year 1964.

GOVERNMENT OF WEST BENGAL

LABOUR DEPARTMENT

ORDERS

No. 3224I.R./IR/10L-149(A)/64.—27th July 1964. —Whereas under the Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 3537-I.R./IR/10L-97/62, dated the 6th August 1962 (hereinafter referred to as the said order), the industrial disputes between the employers of the Engineering Establishments mentioned in the List I of the said Order and represented either by themselves or by the organisations mentioned in the List II of the said order on the one hand, and their workmen represented by the Trade Unions mentioned in the List III of the said Order, on the other, regarding the issues mentioned in the said Order, being matters specified in the Third Schedule to the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), was referred to the Seventh Industrial Tribunal for adjudication;

And whereas during the pendency of proceedings before the said Industrial Tribunal Shri Rabindra Nath Das, a workman of Messrs. Industry Side (P) Ltd., 6/B Dihi Serampore Road, P.O. Park Street, Calcutta, one of the companies involved in the said disputes, the said Company made a complaint in writing to the said Industrial Tribunal against the said Company alleging that the said Company had terminated the services of the said workman concerned in such dispute;

And whereas in exercise of the powers conferred by section 33A of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the said Industrial Tribunal has adjudicated upon the said complaint and submitted its award to the State Government;

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of section 17 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (XIV of 1947), the Governor is pleased hereby to publish the said award as shown in the annexure hereto.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of a complaint under section 33A, Industrial Disputes Act, by Shri Rabindra Nath Das, a workman of Messrs. Industry Side (P.) Ltd. of 6/B Dihi Serampore Road, P.O. Park Street, Calcutta. (Address: 40 Babu Bagan, P.O. Dhakuria, Calcutta) (Case No. 53 of 1964 under section 33A.)

BEFORE THE SEVENTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

Shri S. K. RAY, Judge, Seventh Industrial Tribunal

For the Workman: None.

For the Company: Shri J. R. Jain, Labour Adviser.

Award

This proceeding arises out of an application under section 33A, Industrial Disputes Act, made by Shri Rabindra Nath Das, a workman of Messrs. Industry Side (P) Ltd., complaining that his services were all on a sudden wrongfully terminated by the Company by its letter, dated 30th January 1964, on a vague charge of misconduct during the pendency of the adjudication proceedings of another dispute between the Company and its workmen, referred to this Tribunal by Government Order No. 3537-I.R./IR/10L-97/62, dated 6th August 1962.

The Company appeared and took some adjournments for filing its written statement. The last adjourned date for filing written satement by the Company was 24th June 1964. On that date, the Company applied for another adjournment for filing its written statement, but the workman filed a verified petition stating that he did not like to pursue his complaint any further, as the case had been amicably settled out of court and praying that his application under section 33A might be treated as withdrawn. This petition was filed after the Company had already filed its petition for adjournment and the case had been adjourned to 9th July 1962 for filing written statement by the Company. So, the workman's petition was also ordered to be put up on the next adjourned date (9th July 1964). On 9th July 1964 the Company's representative was present, but none appeared for the workman. The workman's petition filed on 24th June 1964 was considered and award was reserved.

Where the applicant workman has stated by a verified petition that he does not want to pursue this complaint and the case may be disposed of as withdrawn and when no other step was taken on 9th July 1964, the date fixed for consideration of this petition on behalf of the workman, it is to be considered that the applicant workman sticks to his petition, dated 24th June 1964, and does not want to pursue his complaint and wants it to be disposed of as withdrawn. The case is accordingly to be disposed of on the basis of that petition.

In the result, I dispose of this case as withdrawn by the applicant in terms of his petition, dated 24th June 1964, and award accordingly. A copy of the applicant's petition, dated 6th July 1964, is made a part of the award as an Annexure.

S. K. RAY,
Judge, Seventh Industrial Tribunal.

AWARD

After service of usual notices on the parties, both the Union and the employers filed their written statements setting forth their respective cases. The written statement of the Union was filed by Dhapa Mazdoor Sabha which claims to represent the workmen. Shri Dhirendra Nath Sen, Shri Jitendra Nath Sen and Shri Bishnu Charan Sen were the Lessees of Dhapa Square Miles under the Corporation of Calcutta. It was the duty of the Lessees to unload the garbage from the railway wagons of the Calcutta Corporation which are placed at various points of Dhapa Square Miles. For the purpose of unloading the garbage the Lessees settled a large number of scavengers in hutments built by them on the Corporation land in the Dhapa Area. The scavengers are residing there for 15/20 years. They used to be paid at the rate of As. 12 per head per diem for the work of unloading the garbage. They worked from 6 a.m. to 2 p.m. The Union was formed in 1962 and it submitted a charter of demands. There was an agreement between the employers and the Dhapa Mazdoor Sabha on 13th June 1962. By another agreement, the workers were paid Rs. 1/8 per head per diem as wages. The formation of the Union was viewed with disfavour by the employers. The employers through their agent Shri Jadu Nandan Singh started torturing the workmen. In the morning on 5th September 1962 about 200 armed men raided the hutments of these scavengers and assaulted everyone including the womenfolk, demolished their huts and looted the belongings of the workmen. The authorities of the Calcutta Corporation and Government intervened and stopped exodus of workers from the Dhapa Area. As a temporary measure, the Calcutta Corporation took over the management from the Lessees, and continued it up to 30th October 1962. On 1st November 1962 the Lessees' men again took charge of the work, but refused to give employment to the 65 workmen named in the order of reference. This is a case of victimisation of the loyal men to the Union, as the Lessees are recruiting new men from outside for their work.

The employers filed a written statement wherein they also raised a preliminary objection that it is not an industrial dispute. Their first contention is that there is no relationship of employer and employee between the Lessees and the 65 men listed in the order of reference. The Lessees employed the workmen casually and not permanently. It is also contended that the Union which is representing the workmen in this case has no locus standi. Some of the workmen are still working under the Lessees. There is in fact no refusal of employment to any one, but the listed workmen themselves did not turn up for work. The practice is that women work on each wagon, and the number of men required for unloading the garbage depends on the number of wagons which arrive for clearance each day. There are 400 families of scavengers residing in the Dhapa Area, and the daily requirement is barely 200 men, and sometimes it is even less.

Decision

The first question is whether it is an industrial dispute. I will consider this question in its different aspects. The first question is whether the present Union can represent the workmen listed in the order of reference. The employers entered into an agreement with the Dhapa Mazdoor Sabha on the point of wages of the workmen, and that agreement is dated 13th June 1962. About the formation of the Union, there is abundant evidence, and in particular I may refer to the evidence of P.W. 2 Shri Pashan. There is no evidence that there is any other Union there. Even conceding that this is the sole Union in the Dhapa Area, the point further to be investigated is whether the present dispute, i.e., the question of refusal of employment to the 65 workmen, has been espoused by an appreciable number of workmen. It is the evidence of P.W. 2 Shri Pashan that he is a member of the Executive Committee of the Union, and that Union has 256 members. He also states that the dismissed workmen are also members of this Union. He stated at page 4 of his evidence that he informed the Union about refusal of work to him by the Lessees' men, but he could not say if the other dismissed workmen have acted like him. He further added that he does not know if the other workmen concerned in this dispute gave any authority in writing to the Union to take up their case. Lastly he added that those workmen told the Union to take up their case, and this they did in his presence. Of the 65 workmen who are alleged to have been dismissed, only three workmen P.W. 2 Shri Pashan, P.W. 3 Shri Madhab and P.W. 4 Shri Kuran gave evidence in this case, and none of them besides Pashan stated that the Union was authorised to take up their case. There is no paper or document to show that the Union was authorised in this respect by even the dismissed workmen, not to speak of an appreciable number of workmen. According to the Union, there are 250 persons who are employed, and of them only Pashan stated that he authorised the Union to take up his case of refusal of employment by the Lessees. On the other hand, the employers examined two of the alleged dismissed workmen, and they are O.P.W. 3 Shri Ghamandi and O.P.W. 4 Shri Bandhan. They stated in their evidence that they did not authorise the Union to champion their case. Bandhan stated in his evidence that he is still working under the Lessees. This is the position in relation to the dismissed workmen. There is no evidence that any other workmen excluding the dismissed workmen authorised the Union to take up the present dispute. In the present state of evidence, the argument advanced on the side of the employers is that the Union has no authority to espouse the cause of the alleged dismissed workmen, because there is no evidence that an appreciable number of workmen authorised the Union in this respect. In this view of the matter, there is no industrial dispute; and if any dispute exists it is an individual dispute in respect of Shri Pashan and two others who gave evidence in this case. None of the other workmen were examined before this Tribunal.

Another aspect of the case is whether the workmen listed in the order of reference are the employees of the Lessees, i.e., whether they are workmen within the definition of section 2(s) of the Act and whether it is an industrial dispute within the meaning of clause (k) of the said section. This point is argued with some emphasis on the side of the Lessees, who are the employers. The following facts emerged from evidence. The Sen Babus are the Lessees of the Calcutta Corporation under a Registered Deed of Lease (Ext. 4). There are 14 lease-holders, and only three of them have been mentioned in the order of reference. I do not think that it is a fatal defect. The Lessees enjoy several acres of land in Dhapa area in lieu of cash rent as also a duty cast upon them to clear the garbage from the wagons which daily arrive at Dhapa carrying municipal garbage. The system is that the Lessees employ scavengers for unloading of wagons and they engage two men for each wagon. The Lessees built several hutments in the Dhapa area where 400 families reside. They are all scavengers and their duty is to unload the garbage. Wages are paid daily at the rate of Rs. 1/8 per diem per head. About 70 to 80 wagons loaded with garbage arrive daily at the Dhapa area, and double the number of men are employed for clearing the same. 50/60 men are employed for carrying drinking water and spreading the garbage over the field. Usually 200 men used to get work daily. Thus out of 400 men the daily requirement was for 200 men. The system of employment can be found in the evidence of P.W. 1 Shri Panchu Gopal Dey (who supervised the work of the scavengers on behalf of the Calcutta Corporation for a couple of months) and from the evidence of other witnesses also. The work of supervision in respect of clearing of garbage by the scavengers from the railway wagons used to be conducted by the Lessees. There was a severe riot on 5th September 1962 in the Dhapa area, and the scavengers were the victims of riot at the hands of the Lessees' men. There had been a criminal case over that occurrence, but we are not concerned so much with that. As a result of the riot, the scavengers fled away, and they were induced by the authorities of the Calcutta Corporation to return to work, and during September and October 1962 the Calcutta Corporation itself took over the work of supervision. During Corporation period, Shri Panchu Gopal Dey, who is a Permanent Way Inspector of the said Corporation, was put in charge of supervision of the work of the scavengers. The Corporation, however, left on 1st November 1962 making over the charge of supervision to the Lessees again. Shri Dey's evidence is that he maintained a list of workers who worked during Corporation period (Ext. 1) and employed men who reported for work. According to him, about 300 people used to come for work, and none of them was refused employment. The list (Ext. 1) was not, however, signed by the Lessees' men. The practice of employment was that about 200 people out of 400 residents used to be employed daily, and in fact a larger number of workmen than the actual requirement used to turn up for work. Those who could not be given any work on the day they presented themselves for work, were given employment on the next day. Thus there was no fixed number of men working regularly, and there was no obligation on the part of the men living in the Dhapa area to turn up for work. Pashan wanted to say that those who were unwilling to work were forcibly engaged in work by the Lessees. This is unbelievable, because more than the required number of men used to report for work each day. His further evidence is that the workmen did not apply for leave of absence to the Lessees. There was no obligation for the absentees to apply for leave. Another workman P.W. 4 Shri Kuran stated the same thing. He also added that they did not get any wages for the days they did not work. It cannot, therefore, be said that the 65 workmen named in the order of reference had any right to be employed every day or on fixed days, nor had they any obligation to turn up for work on any particular hour on any particular day. The position accordingly is that the employer was free to appoint any number of workmen out of 400 scavengers residing in the Dhapa area according to requirement depending on arrival of wagons for clearance. Thus no fixed set of men had any right of employment on any particular day. When a worker was appointed, his employment was for that day only, and he had no right of employment on the next day or on any fixed date thereafter. The contract of labour was on the basis of daily wages for the day of appointment only. The above facts will lead to the only conclusion that there was no relationship of master and servant between the Lessees and the concerned persons who used to turn up for work along with others, and if the employers did not appoint them on any particular day, they had no right to force employment upon the employers. In a case reported in 1962 I L.L.J. page 119, the Hon'ble Supreme Court made the following observations:

> "It is true that piece-rated workers or part-time workers could be workers within the definition of worker in the Act. But they must be regular workers and not workers who come and work according to their sweet will, or they must have under their contract of service an obligation to work either for fixed period or between fixed hours. The whole conception of service does not fit in well with a 'servant who has full liberty to attend to his work according to his pleasure and not according to the orders of his master'."

In the present case, the right of control undoubtedly was with the Lessees for the day of employment. But it does not mean that the Lessees had control over each one of the 400 scavengers residing in the area to join work, as by the very nature of work the Lessees require only 200/250 men each day. My conclusion accordingly is that the 65 workmen mentioned in the order of reference are not "workmen" within the definition of the Act, nor is it an industrial dispute within the definition of section 2(s) of the Act, because there is no relationship of master and servant as contemplated under the Act. That being the position, the instant dispute is not an industrial dispute, and the reference is bad in law. Since the reference is incompetent, it is not necessary for the Tribunal to go into the merits of the alleged refusal of employment by the employers to the workmen concerned. I may also point out that the 65 workmen named cannot force employment upon the Lessees, as they have no right of employment, and even if the Lessees refused employment to them, the said refusal cannot be held to be unjustified. I accordingly decide the present dispute in favour of the Lessees, and no relief can be given to the workmen.

This is my award.

ANNEXURE

In the matter of an industrial dispute between Messrs. Britannia Biscuit Co. Ltd., 15 Taratolla Road, Alipore, Calcutta-27, and their workmen represented by the Britannia Biscuit Co. Employees' Union, 15 Taratolla Road, Calcutta-27. (Case No. 256 of 1963.)

BEFORE THE FIFTH INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

Present:

Shri K. P. MUKHERJI, Judge,
Fifth Industrial Tribunal.

Present for the Company: Shri S. K. Mukherji, Personnel Officer of the Company.

Present for the Union: Shri Sundari Mohan Chatterjee, the concerned workman himself.

This dispute between Messrs. Britannia Biscuit Co. Ltd. and their workmen was referred to this Tribunal under Government of West Bengal, Labour Department, Order No. 4454-I.R./IR/11L-416/63, dated the 4th November 1963, under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, for adjudication upon the only issue which is as follows:

Whether the dismissal of Shri Sundari Mohan Chatterjee, a Van Clerk of the Company, is justified? To what relief, if any, is he entitled?

After receipt of the order of reference on 7th November 1963, usual notices were issued to both the parties fixing 23rd November 1963 for appearance and filing of the written statement by the Union. The Union filed its written statement on 21st November 1963 and the Company filed its written statement on 26th December 1963. After several adjournments the case was fixed for hearing on 29th July 1964. On 15th July 1964 the workman concerned appeared and put in a petition stating that the dispute with the Company has been amicably settled out of Court, and he did not want to proceed with the case and did not press for his reinstatement. The workman concerned has been identified by the Personnel Officer of the Company. It is stated by the workman concerned that he does not claim reinstatement as the dispute has been amicably settled. In view of the petition filed and the statement made by the workman concerned, it is clear that the workman concerned does not want an adjudication of the dispute as it has been amicably settled. The dispute is, therefore, to be deemed to be non-existent and an award is to be made accordingly, on the basis that at present there is no subsisting dispute for adjudication as stated in the petition. In the result, I make a "no dispute" award in the case.

Before I take up the issues for decision on merits, I would here shortly dispose of a preliminary point argued on behalf of the Company at the hearing. The point relates to the alleged incompetence of the Union to raise this dispute as an industrial dispute on the ground that the Union is not representative of the workmen to the extent required by law to render it competent to make it an industrial dispute regarding these workmen of the Company. Paragraphs (2) and (3) of the Company's written statement contain the whole of the Company's case regarding this point. In paragraph (2), the representative character of the Union has been challenged and in paragraph (3) it is alleged that the dispute has not been validly raised and the workmen of the Company have not espoused the cause of these workmen at any stage. Unfortunately, however, at the hearing not an iota of evidence has been adduced on behalf of the Company in support of the contentions of paragraphs (2) and (3). There is no affirmation by any witness for the Company at the hearing that the Union has no representative character and the workmen of the Company had not espoused the cause of these workmen. So, the allegations in paragraphs (2) and (3) of the Company's written statement have not gone beyond mere pleading and there is no material at all in proof of the same. The Company cannot claim on the basis of the aforesaid mere pleading only that this Tribunal should accept its case, as alleged in paragraphs (2) and (3). The real position is to be taken to be that the representative character of the Union and its competence to raise this industrial dispute regarding the workmen have not been challenged at the hearing. It is proved by the evidence on the record that this Union raised this dispute before the Labour Commissioner and conciliation proceedings were started in the Labour Commissioner's office (vide Exts. 4 and 5). No doubt, in Ext. 6 the letter from the Company to the Conciliation Officer, there is a paragraph challenging the representative character of the Union, but there is nothing to show that this challenge was really pressed before the Conciliation Officer. The fact remains that the conciliation proceedings started at the instance of this Union and on failure of conciliation the Government made the present reference regarding the dispute raised by this Union. It is to be noted in this connection that the concerned Union is exclusively a Union of the employees of this Company and the Government has made this reference on the dispute being raised by the Union. Having regard to all the aforesaid facts and circumstances, I reject the Company's contention that this Union has no representative character and is not competent to raise the present industrial dispute on behalf of the workmen and as such it is not an industrial dispute. The preliminary point raised by the Company is, therefore, rejected.

At this stage, I should also deal with some general allegations made by the Union against the Company in its written statement. The substance of the relevant allegations is that this Company took to harassing and victimising the workmen since when preparations were being made for establishment of this Union since 1st August 1961 and at first the services of three employees were terminated and thereafter on 2nd November 1961 the General Secretary of the Union Shri Jnan Bhattacharjee was served with a notice of termination of service and some other employees, some of whom were also office-bearers of the Union, were served with notice of termination of service and after this the workmen commenced a strike which was ultimately withdrawn from 28th January 1962 on the advice of the Conciliation Officer, but still the Company continued its vindictive and harassing activities against the workmen and the termination of services of the workmen of issue No. 1 and and refusal of employment to the workmen of issue No. 2 were practically the result of such activities. The Company, in its written statement, has characterised these allegations as irrelevant to the issues for adjudication and has affirmed that the Company had all along been sympathetic to the workmen, though they resorted to all sorts of violent and illegal activities, and the Company all along co-operated with the conciliation machinery, but the Union was bent upon creating troubles. There is practically no evidence in support of these general allegations and counter-allegations by the parties. It is, however, not disputed that there was termination of services of some workmen including the General Secretary and some office-bearers of the Union and after failure of conciliation proceedings regarding the dispute over the termination of services of these workmen, there was reference of the dispute to this Tribunal for adjudication under Government Order No. 1176-I.R./IR/11L-91/62, dated the 5th April 1962. I may state here that that reference has already been disposed of by an award given by this Tribunal. All that need be said here is that there are no such materials upon which it can be held that the Company adopted a vindictive and harassing attitude towards the workmen simply for their Union activities and there is no reason to consider the cases of the concerned workmen in this dispute against the background that the Company had all along been adopting a vindictive and harassing attitude towards these workmen. The cases of the concerned workmen in this dispute are to be considered and disposed of on merits on the basis of the facts presented and proved before the Tribunal and the facts are to be viewed independently of the alleged background regarding the general attitude of the Company towards the workmen stated in the Union's written statement. With these observations regarding the general allegations made by the Union, I proceed to consider the cases of the workmen in this dispute on merits.

The relevant facts and circumstances connected with the case of each workman and the relevant cases of the parties on disputed points regarding each workman will appear from the following discussions for determination of the issues.

I will now proceed to consider and decide the case of each workman separately under each issue.

Issue No. 1:

Shri Samar Rakshit (serial No. 1) and Shri Gobardhan Barik (serial No. 5)

It is proved on the Company's side by the evidence of O.P.W. 2 Shri A. P. Banerji, the Senior Partner of the Company, and by Exts. K and K(1) that these two workmen have settled their disputes with the Company and have taken payments of all their dues from the Company in full and final settlement of their accounts, stating that they have no other claims or dues against the Company. There is practically no challenge to this evidence on the Company's side. None of these two workmen has come forward to deny the Company's evidence regarding them. There is no reason to disbelieve this evidence on the Company's side. Exhibits K and K(1), the receipts of these two workmen, clearly establish the position that they have settled their disputes with the Company and have received full payments of their dues and they have no further claims against the Company. Accordingly, there is to be a "no dispute" award in respect of these two workmen. So, at once I make a "no dispute" award regarding these two workmen on the footing that no dispute for adjudication exists in regard to them.

Shri Tapan Banerjee (serial No. 2):

The Union's case in respect of this workman is contained in paragraph (17) of the Union's written statement and the Company's case in regard to him is to be found in paragraph (12) of its written statement. The Union's case is simply this: He was a typist-cum-clerk and was served with a notice of termination of service by the Company's letter, dated 13th February 1962, on the ground that there was no work. The Company's case is as follows: The service of this workman was retrenched, as he was found surplus to the Company's requirements and he was offered all his legal dues personally on the day of retrenchment and Government was also informed. This workman refused to accept his legal dues even though these were sent to him by M.O. The Company acted bona fide in retrenching him.

Coming to the evidence regarding the case of this workman, I find that there is practically no evidence on the side of the Union while there is evidence on the Company's side to prove that this workman was retrenched, as he became surplus to the Company's requirements and he was offered all his dues, including the retrenchment compensation at first by cheque and this offer having been refused, the money was sent to him by M.O. and this also came back as refused. O.P.W. 2 Shri A. P. Banerjee has proved this case of the Company in his evidence practically without any challenge from the side of the Union in cross-examination. His evidence stands as ofllows: "Tapan Banerjee was retrenched for insufficient work by a letter. This is a copy of the letter (Ext. L). We offered him retrenchment compensation by cheque, but he refused to accept the cheque. Then we sent compensation to him by M.O., but this was also refused. This is the cheque and this is the refused M.O. [Exts. M and M(1)]. We sent this notice of retrenchment in P form to the Labour Directorate. [Proves copy of the notice with receipt, Exts. N and N(1)]. The exhibits referred to in his evidence fully support his testimony. The evidence practically stands ex-parte and unchallenged and there is no reason why it should not be accepted. Accordingly, I accept the Company's case regarding this workman and hold that he was legally retrenched on being considered surplus to the Company's requirements on account of insufficiency of work and he was offered full retrenchment compensation and the Company fully complied with the requirements of clauses (a) to (c) of section 25F, Industrial Disputes Act. It appears from Ext. L that his retrenchment became necessary because the post that he was holding was abolished. The Company has certainly the right to decide whether it should maintain any post in its establishment and there is nothing to show that the Company's decision in the matter of the abolition of the post of this workman was mala fide or motivated by any vindictive bias against this workman. This workman himself has not come forward to challenge his retrenchment as unnecessary and mala fide. In the result, I hold upon the evidence that this workman was validly and legally retrenched and the Company acted bona fide and for sufficient reason in retrenching him and all the formalities of clauses (a) to (c) of section 25F were complied within the matter of his retrenchment. Though he refused the offer of notice pay and retrenchment compensation made by the Company, [vide refused M.O. form Ext. M(1)] he is still at liberty to take payment of the money from the Company.

Accordingly, I hold in his case that his service was terminated by valid and legal retrenchment and he is not entitled to any relief. He may, however, draw one month's wages and retrenchment compensation from the Company, as already offered to him.

Shri Aloke Barik (serial No. 3) and Shri Druba Barik (serial No. 4)

The common case of both parties in respect of these two workmen as follows: Each of them was charge-sheeted on 8th February 1962 for refusing to carry out the order of his superior officer, Shri G. K. Sinha, to deliver some materials to the D.C.O.S., S. E. Railway, at Shalimar, in company with Shri Dulal Bhattacharjee and also behaving roughly with the said superior officer. Exhibits B and B(1) are the admitted charge-sheets. Each of them submitted his reply to the charge-sheet. Exhibit C is Druba Barik's reply to the charge-sheet and Ext. C(1) is Aloke Barik's reply to the charge-sheet. In both these replies, both of them denied the charge of refusing to go to Shalimar according to the orders of Shri G. K. Sinha and further alleged that they were not allowed to do their normal duties since 29th January 1962, when the Union called off the strike. A domestic enquiry was held after notice to these workmen. The enquiry commenced on 14th February 1962 and after partial enquiry, the proceedings were adojurned to 17th February 1962 and were concluded on that date. Exhibit D series are the notices of the enquiry dates, 14th February 1962 and 17th February 1962, given to these workmen. According to the Union, the enquiry was adjourned to 17th February 1962, as the witnesses did not make statements in support of the charge. The Union has also asserted that no representative of the workmen was allowed to take part in the enquiry in spite of repeated requests. The enquiry was conducted in Bengali and so a representative was necessary. After the enquiry, the workmen were dismissed by the Company's letters, dated 20th February 1962. The Company's case is that quite a fair and proper enquiry was held regarding the charge against these workmen and a joint enquiry was held because the charge against each was the same and at the enquiry both of them were present and they were given full opportunity to meet the charge and defend themselves. The enquiry officer found them guilty of the charge and thereupon the Company dismissed them. The crucial point to be decided in the case of these two workmen upon the facts admitted by both parties is whether a fair and proper enquiry according to the principles of natural justice was held by offering them full liberty to meet the charge and defend themselves. The enquiry was held by Shri Paresh Chandra Aich, Accountant of the Company. He has given evidence (O.P.W. 1). Exhibit E constitutes the recorded enquiry proceedings. It shows that the enquiry commenced on 14th February 1962 and the superior officer Shri G. K. Sinha, whose order to carry some materials to Shalimar was said to have been disobeyed by these two workmen, was examined on that date and thereafter the enquiry was adjourned to 17th Febraury 1962, on which date some other witnesses were examined and the statements of the charge-sheeted workmen were recorded. It further appears that the enquiry was conducted in Bengali and the proceedings were also recorded in Bengali. It is recorded in the enquiry proceedings that both the workmen were asked to cross-examine each witness, but they declined and they were also asked to produce witness, if any, on their side, but they declined to produce any witness. The fact of their refusal to produce any witness is recorded in the enquiry proceedings held both on 14th February 1962 and on 17th February 1962 (vide page 2 of the proceedings of 14th February 1962 and also page 2 of the proceedings of 17th February 1962 in Ext. E). O.P.W. 1 Shri Paresh Chandra Aich, the enquiry officer, has proved the relevant documents including the recorded enquiry proceedings. His evidence is substantially in accord with the recorded proceedings. Only in one respect I find some difference between his statement and the recorded enquiry proceedings. The enquiry proceedings, dated 17th February 1962, show that both these two workmen made some statements and these are recorded. But in his evidence, Shri Paresh Chandra Aich has stated that none of the charge-sheeted workmen made any statement, though he asked them to make any statement if they desired. I think it was nothing but a mistake due to lapse of memory on his part. The recorded enquiry proceedings cannot be rejected simply on this ground. None of these concerned workmen has come forward to give evidence against the enquiry proceedings. There is no word of challenge against the bona fides and correctness of the proceedings as recorded in Ext. E. I am fully satisfied from Ext. E and the evidence of O.P.W. 1 Shri Paresh Chandra Aich that there was a fair and proper enquiry according to the principles of natural justice and in this enquiry both the workmen were given every liberty and opportunity to cross-examine the Company's witnesses who were examined in their presence and they were also asked to produce their witnesses, if any, but they declined to produce any witness. I am further satisfied that the Company acted bona fide and without any spirit of victimisation or any trace of unfair labour practice and there was no basic error or violation of any principle of natural justice in the matter of holding the enquiry. There is absolutely no evidence before me to justify the contention made in the Union's written statement that the enquiry was adjourned from 14th February 1962 to 17th February 1962 simply because the witness did not make statements according to the Company's instructions. On 14th February 1962 only Shri G. K. Sinha was examined and he fully supported the charge and on 17th February 1962, two other Company's witnesses were examined and they also supported the charge. It is to be noted that in the statements made by these two workmen at the enquiry, they were asked why they did not take the materials to Shalimar and both of them stated that it was not possible to do all works at all times. This was not certainly a plausible and acceptable defence to the charge of disobeying the lawful orders of a superior officer to perform their duty of taking some materials to Shalimar. Exhibit F is the report of Shri G. K. Sinha upon which the charge-sheets were issued. Exhibit G is the report of the enquiry officer in which he found both the workmen guilty of the charge. I have considered the evidence produced at the enquiry and I find that the finding of the enquiry officer was not perverse or baseless. There was certainly sufficient materials upon which he could make such a finding. On the aforesaid findings about the enquiry regarding the charge-sheets to these two workmen, I must accept the enquiry and the report as correct and bona fide. After this, I would have no justification or jurisdiction to cancel the enquiry and the report and go independently into the merits of the charge against these workmen. They were certainly guilty of a gross misconduct in that they refused to obey the lawful orders of their superior officer in respect of performance of their duties and such misconduct certainly merited the punishment of dismissal. Accordingly, I find in the case of these two workmen that they were dismissed on a charge of gross misconduct after a fair and proper enquiry according to the principles of natural justice and the Company acted bona fide and without any trace of unfair labour practice in dismissing them on the basis of the enquiry report, which was certainly not perverse or baseless. They are, therefore, not entitled to any relief. I award accordingly in their case.

Shri Nathuni Jha (serial No. 6)

The Union's case in respect of this workman is given in paragraphs 20 and 21 of its written statement. It is that he was given a notice of termination of service by the Company's letter, dated 23rd February 1962. This letter was duly replied to and the charge made in the Company's letter was denied. The matter was taken up for conciliation, but the Company did not attend the conciliation meetings called by the Conciliation Officer. The Company's case in respect of this workman is contained in paragraph 13 of its written statement. The Company has alleged as follows: He was working as a mazdoor under the Company. He absented himself suddenly from 4th June 1962 simply on verbal intimation to his co-worker. He was granted seven days' leave by the Company's letter, dated 5th June 1962. The leave expired on 11th June 1962. Thereafter, he did not join his duty, nor gave any information to the Company. As he overstayed his sanctioned leave by more than 10 days, it was deemed that he had voluntarily left the Company's service and his name was struck off from the Company's record and a letter was issued to him on 22nd June 1962 terminating his services according to the Company's rules and regulations. Nathuni Jha appeared to give evidence in support of his case. In fact, he is the only witness examined by the Union. It is not disputed that he was at the relevant time working as a labourer. Exhibit A is the written application for leave. In this application, leave was asked for from the date of the letter, i.e., 2nd June 1962 up to 26th June 1962, on the ground that his wife was seriously ill at home and he had received a telegram to that effect. Nathuni has stated that he personally tendered this letter to Shri A. P. Banerjee, the Senior Partner, and he verbally permitted him to go home that very day. The evidence of Shri A. P. Banerjee on this point is that he never came to him with the letter, Ext. A, nor did he tell him anything about the leave and he did not turn up for work from 5th June 1962 (Monday) and one of his co-workers gave him the letter, Ext. A. His further evidence is that Nathuni left his work on Saturday, 3rd June 1962, and he got the letter, Ext. 'A, on 5th June 1962. The letter, however, bears the seal of the Company, dated 4th June 1962. I think he has made a confusion about the dates. Fifth June 1962 was not a Monday—it was a Tuesday and 4th June 1962 was a Monday. It is clear, therefore, that he received the letter on 4th June 1962. However, his evidence is that this workman left work on 3rd June 1962 without handing over this letter to him or taking any permission from him and he got this letter from some of his co-workers on 5th June 1962. I think this date should be 4th June 1962. After considering the evidence of Nathuni Jha and Shri A. P. Banerjee, I prefer to accept the evidence of Shri A. P. Banerjee and I hold thereon that this workman did not take any verbal permission from Shri A. P. Banerjee before he left work on the basis of the application for leave (Ext. A) and this letter was presented to Shri A. P. Banerjee on 4th June 1962 by a co-worker of this workman who had then already left work. It comes to this, therefore, that this workman, left work and went away without getting any permission from Shri A. P. Banerjee or any other competent officer. It is further proved by the evidence of Shri A. P. Banerjee that after getting the letter, Ext. A, the Company sent the letter, Ext. H, to his home address informing him that his application for leave had been considered and he had been allowed seven days' leave and he was to join positively on 11th June 1962. This letter was sent under certificate of posting [Ext. H(1)]. It is to be presumed that it reached Nathuni Jha. Admittedly, he did not come back to duty on 11th June 1962. The Company waited for eleven days more and then issued the letter, Ext. 1, dated 22nd February 1962, terminating the services of this workman on the ground that he had not only not joned on 11th June 1962, but had also remained absent from duty unauthorisedly for over ten days and according to the Company's rules such absence was to result in automatic termination of his service. It appears that Nathuni Jha sent a reply to this letter on 22nd June 1962, and his reply was considered by the Company and then the reply, Ext. J, dated 3rd July 1962, was sent to him. In this reply, all the pleas taken in Nathuni's reply were denied. Some of these pleas have also been taken here on behalf of Nathuni. In the Company's letter, dated 3rd July 1962, the Company clearly stated the case now alleged in the written statement in respect of this workman. Exhibit I is the standing rules and regulations relating inter alia to service conditions of the workmen of this Company. According to rule 21, if an employee remains absent without report consecutively for a week, his services may be terminated without giivng him a notice. The Company claims to have acted under this rule. After considering the entire evidence and circumstances of the case bearing on Nathuni, I find that really he left work on 3rd June 1962 without taking any permission, verbal or written, and the leave application (Ext. A) was received by Shri A. P. Banerjee on 4th June 1962 and on this application, he was granted seven days' leave and was asked to report on 11th June 1962, but he did not report for duty on that date, and continued to be absent from duty up to 22nd June 1962 and on this date, the Company treated his service as terminated according to rule 21 of the standing rules and regulations, and accordingly issued the letter, Ext. 1, to him. His remaining away from duty in spite of this Company's letter asking him to join on 11th June 1962 after expiry of seven days' leave granted to him, certainly amounted to unauthorised absence and it continued for about eleven days, and so the Company was quite within its legal rights in treating his service as terminated according to rule 21 of its standing rules. It has been vehemently urged before me by the Union's representative that the Company should have acted with some humane consideration and allowed him leave for a sufficient period to enable him to attend to his ailing wife at home and, in any case, the Company was not justified in giving him only seven days' leave when his going to and coming from home in Darbhanga district would take about four days. I have given careful consideration to this argument. It is to be noted that this workman left work without any verbal or written permission simply by leaving an application for leave with some co-worker on the plea of his wife's illness at home. It is said that he received a telegram and produced it before Shri A.

P. Banerjee. Shri A. P. Banerjee has denied that any telegram was produced before him. No such telegram has been produced before this Tribunal. Considering the overall facts and circumstances, I cannot say that the Company acted with a mala fide motive and with a spirit of victimisation in granting him only seven days' leave and then terminating his service on his failure to come back to duty after seven days and remaining absent for more than ten days after the expiry of the leave. The Company is fully entitled to act according to its rules and any termination of service made strictly according to rules cannot be negatived by the Tribunal simply on some humanitarian ground, as alleged. The workman should have applied for extension of leave for seven days allowed by the Company on receipt of the Company's letter, Ext. H, but he did nothing of the kind. On all the above considerations, I hold upon a direct and independent enquiry into the matter of termination of service of this workman that the Company acted bona fide according to its rules in terminating the service of this workman and he is not entitled to any relief. No doubt no charge-sheet was issued to this workman for the unauthorised absence in violation of rule 21 of the standing rules of the Company and no enquiry was held. In such a case the Tribunal must look into the merits of the case upon the eivdence produced before it and it cannot straightaway declare the Company's action as mala fide and illegal simply because no charge-sheet was given and no enquiry was held. In such a case, the whole matter is at large and open before the Tribunal and the Tribunal must decide the matter independently upon the evidence produced before it. This is what I have done in the present case. In the result, I find that the termination of service of this workman was justified and he is not entitled to any relief. I award accordingly in his case.

Issue No. 2:

Shri Arun Basu Mullick (serial No. 2) and Shri Amar Dutta (serial No. 3)

These two workmen have amicably settled their disputes with the Company and have taken payment of all their dues from the Company in full and final settlement of their accounts and have no further claims against the Company. Exhibits K(2) and K(3) are the receipts granted by Shri Arun Basu Mullick (serial No. 2) and Shri Amar Dutta (serial No. 3), respectively, after accepting payment of their dues from the Company in full and final settlement of their claims and on relinquishment of any further claims against the Company. It appears that these two workmen also jointly filed an application before this Tribunal on 25th January 1964, stating that they had settled their case amicably with the Compauy and had received the amounts mentioned in Exts. K(2) and K(3) and they had no further grievance against or dispute with the Company. Copies of Exts. K(2) and K(3) were filed along with this application. None of these two workmen has come forward to give evidence in this case. On the above facts and circumstances, I hold that the dispute in respect of these two workmen has been amicably settled and there is now no existence of any dispute concerning these two workmen requiring adjudication. Accordingly, I make a "no dispute" award in respect of these two workmen on the footing that the dispute concerning them has ceased to exist.

Shri Ram Ch. Jha (serial No. 1), Shri Ajoy Mitter (serial No. 4) and Shri Misir Shah (serial No. 5)

The Union's case in respect of these three workmen is contained in paragraph 22 of its written statement, while the Company's case in respect of them is contained in paragraph 14 of its written statement. The Union's case is that they were not allowed to resume duties when the Union called off the strike by its letter, dated 27th January 1962, and with effect from 28th January 1962. The Union wrote a letter, dated 1st February 1962, to the Company regarding these workmen. The Company's case is that these three workmen worked for short periods of 89, 119 and 185 days respectively under the Company as casual and daily-rated workmen on "no work no pay" basis. They were so employed as mazdoors. As there was no work for them after the said periods, they did not report themselves for work after 3rd October 1962 and subsequently they took payment of all their dues in full settlement of their claims. No other workmen have been engaged by the Company after this.

I now come to the evidence in respect of the case concerning these three workmen. None of them nas come forward to give evidence in support of the Union's case that they were not allowed to resume their work after the strike was called off. There is no other evidence on the Union's side in support of this case also. The only witness for the Union, P.W. 1 Shri Nathuni Jha, has not said a word about the case of these three workmen. On the other hand, O.P.W. 2 Shri A. P. Banerjee, the Senior Partner of the Company, has in his evidence supported the Company's case. The entries in the attendance registers [Exts. O to O(2)] have also been proved in support of the Company's case that they worked only for short periods as daily-rated casual workers. Shri A. P. Banerjee has denied that any of them was dismissed for Union activities. So, the position in respect of the evidence is that there is practically ex-parte and unrebutted evidence on the Company's side in support of its case concerning these workmen as against no evidence on the side of the Union. There is no reason why I should not accept the ex-parte and unrebutted evidence of the Company. Accordingly, I accept the Company's evidence and hold that these three workmen were employed as daily-rated casual workmen for short periods, each less than two hundred and forty days and they ceased to work when there was no more work for them. The Company's evidence is also that they took full payments of all their dues for their short periods of work. As each of them worked for less than two hundred and forty days, they are not entitled to any notice wages or retrenchment compensation, even if it assumed that the termination of their services amounted to retrenchment. In view of the above facts, I find that these three workmen who were daily-rated temporary and casual workers and had worked for short periods less than two hundred and forty days each were discharged for want of sufficient work, but they are not entitled to any notice wages or compensation, because none of them had completed two hundred and forty days of continuous service. I also hold that they left service on discharge on taking full payment of all their actual dues for the working periods. Their discharge was justified and they are not entitled to any further relief. I award accordingly in their case.

This finishes my award.

Issue

Whether the retrenchment of Shri Anil Kumar Bhowmick and Shri Mir Jinnat Ali is justified? What relief, if any, are they entitled to?

The material and relevant facts of the case and the respective cases of the parties on the disputed points will appear from the following discussions for determination of the issue.

The issue relates to the retrenchment of two workmen of the Company, Shri Anil Kumar Bhowmick and Shri Mir Jinnat Ali. It is an admitted position that these two workmen were retrenched by the Company with effect from 1st January 1963 under notices, dated 28th December 1962, and that at that time, they were attached to the Stationery Department of the Company at the head office in Calcutta. Shri Anil Kumar Bhaumick was the clerk and Shri Mir Jinnat Ali was one of the two duftries attached to that department. Exhibits E and 5 are respectively the retrenchment notices issued to Mir Jinnat Ali and Shri Anil Kumar Bhaumick. The reason for retrenchment given in both the notices is substantially that the Company had decided to reorganise its establishment by decentralising the Stationery Department, which was then located at the Head Office and as a result of such reorganisation, both these workmen were surplus to the Company's requirements and so it had become necessary to retrench them. I quote below the common relevant portion of the two notices of retrenchment:

> "In order to obtain better results and to effect economy we have decided to decentralise the Stationery Department which is at present located at Head Office. As a result of this reorganisation, your services are found surplus to our requirements and therefore it has become necessary to retrench you from our service as from the close of business on 31st December 1962."

In accordance with these notices, these workmen were retrenched with effect from 1st January 1963. It is also an admitted position before me that one month's wages in lieu of notice and retrenchment compensation under clauses (a) and (b) of section 25F, Industrial Disputes Act, were offered to these workmen, but they refused to accept the moneys offered. I am also satisfied from the evidence of P.W. 1 Shri D. A. MacGillivray, the Staff Manager of the Company, and Ext. D that the required notice of the retrenchment of these workmen in Form P under Rule 77 of the West Bengal Industrial Disputes Rules, 1958, was duly given to the Government in compliance with clause (c) of section 25F. So, it was a case of undisputed retrenchment of these two workmen and in effecting the retrenchment, the requirements of clauses (a) to (c) of section 25F, Industrial Disputes Act, were complied with. But the retrenchment itself has been challenged by the concerned Union as unjustified and a clear violation of the principle of natural justice, and it is also contended that the normal rule of "last come first go" was not at all observed in retrenching these workmen and so, there was clear violation of the provisions of section 25G, Industrial Disputes Act. It is alleged that there are still many clerks who are junior to Shri Anil Kumar Bhaumick and there are also employees junior to Shri Mir Jinnat Ali.

I will first deal with the question of justification of retrenchment itself. It will appear from the reason for retrenchment as given in the retrenchment notices, Exts. E and 5, that the only reason for retrenchment was that owing to reorganisation of the Company's establishment resulting in decentralisation of the Stationery Department which at that time was located at the Head Office, it was not necessary to employ all the workers in the Stationery Department and in view of this position, these two workers were considered surplus to the Company's requirements. It has been proved by the evidence of the Company's witness, Shri D. A. MacGillivray, the Staff Manager of the Company, without any challenge on the side of the Union that really there was reorganisation of the Stationery Department of the Company and by reorganisation, the Central Stationery Office which was located at the Head Office in Calcutta and which exclusively catered to the stationery requirements of all the Company's depots in various places, e.g., Bombay, Madras, etc., and its only factory at Sibpore was decentralised by giving power to the various depots and the factory to purchase their own items of stationery to a large extent. It cannot be gainsaid that as a result of such decentralisation by way of reorganisation of the Stationery Department of the Company, the work burden of the Central Stationery Department which originally catered to all the stationery needs of the various depots and the factory was certainly reduced and on account of such reduction of the work burden it was open to the Company to reduce its staff. The Company has pleaded that after such reorganisation of the Stationery Department, it considered reduction of the staff of the Central Stationery establishment necessary on the ground that the strength of the staff had become surplus to its requirements and so it retrenched these two workmen holding them to be surplus to its requirements. It is now well settled that an employer has the right to reorganise its business in any fashion he likes for the purpose of economy and convenience and to effect retrenchment on the ground of such organisation by way of economy or convenience and nobody has the right to question the propriety of such a course and the only limitation of the right of the employer in this respect is that he should effect the reorganisation bona fide and not with the ulterior object of victimising his employees so as to get rid of their services which would not otherwise be permissible and if an employer acts within the limits of bona fide exercise of discretion, it is not for the court or Tribunal to find fault with the discretion and condemn the scheme of reorganisation. This principle was laid down in the case of Parry & Co. vs. P. C. Paul & Ors. [1964(8) F.L.R., page 183]. This principle had already been laid down in two other cases reported in A.I.R., 1958, SC 102 and 66 C.W.N. 186. Dealing with the question of retrenchment itself in the present case, I must say at once that the Company was fully entitled in exercise of its inherent right of directing its own internal administration to reorganise the Stationery Department by decentralising it for the sake of convenience and economy and to effect retrenchment of personnel as a result of the reorganisation, if considered necessary. When the workload of the Central Stationery Department was substantially reduced by such decentralisation, the Company could effect retrenchment pari passu with the reduction of workload. In the matter of such reorganisation, the question of the financial position of the Company would be absolutely immaterial. The Company was certainly entitled to effect such reorganisation for the purpose of achieving economy and convenience. In the present case, there is no plea that the reorganisation was effect on account of stringent financial position of the Company and there is also no evidence to prove that the reorganisation was necessitated by poor trading results of the Company. In the above view of the relevant facts and circumstances of the case bearing on the question of retrenchment itself, I have no hesitation to hold that the Company was fully entitled to effect retrenchment of its staff after reorganisation of the stationery department by decentralising it and the idea of retrenchment itself was quite bona fide. There is no material before me upon which it can be held that the Company conceived and gave effect to the reorganisation of the Stationery Department with the mala fide motive of victimising its workman so as to get rid of their services which would not be otherwise possible.

In spite of the above position regarding the retrenchment itself, the Tribunal will also have to consider whether the retrenchment of these two workmen was effected strictly according to law and principles of social and natural justice. Here comes the question of observance or non-observance of the principle of "last come first go", which has been prescribed by the statute as the mandatory normal procedure under section 25G, Industrial Disputes Act. In fact, the retrenchment in question has been practically challenged at the hearing only on the ground that it was in violation of the provisions of section 25G, Industrial Disputes Act. The evidence of P.W. 1 Shri Anil Kumar Bhaumick is a clear indication of this position. He has mainly testified to facts bearing on violation of the principle of "last come first go". Section 25 further lays down that if there is any deviation from the mandatory normal procedure prescribed therein, the reasons therefor are to be recorded. The Union has strongly contended that in Company's establishment, there are still many clerks junior to Shri Anil Kumar Bhaumick. For the present, I will confine myself to the case of Shri Anil Kumar Bhaumick. Evidence discloses that the position of Shri Anil Kumar Bhaumick was that of a clerk in the Stationery Department at the time of his retrenchment and he was assigned to this department with effect from 12th January 1960 (vide Ext. 4) and before that he worked in some other positions since his appointment with effect from 28th May 1954 (Ext. 1). It appears that Shri Bhaumick was on first appointment posted as an assistant to Shri A. N. Munshi in the Sales Department. Exhibit B is Shri Bhaumick's own letter to the Company showing this and it is produced by the Company itself. In this letter, after stating that he had been posted on first appointment as an assistant to Shri Munshi, Shri Bhaumick asked for an appointment letter confirming his service. Exhibit 2 is a copy of the letter of confirmation issued to this workman, dated 21st June 1955. It may quite reasonably be said to have been issued in response to the letter, Ext. B. Exhibits A and 3 show that from 8th August 1958 this workman was deputed to assist Shri N. C. Chakravarty in the Accounts Department in addition to his other routine duties. He was appointed as a clerk and his services were utilized as a clerk in more than one department, viz., Sales Department and Accounts Department, before he was posted in the Stationery Department. No doubt, he was the only clerk in the Stationery Department at the time of his retrenchment. The evidence discloses that at that time the Central Stationery Department consisted of one or two officers, only one clerk Shri Bhaumick and two duftries. It cannot be gainsaid that he was retrenched as a clerk to which category he belonged since his appointment and in spite of his service in some other departments. He must be placed in the category of clerks along with all other clerks of the establishment. Section 25G lays down that when any workman is to be retrenched and he belongs to a particular category of workmen in that establishment, the employer shall ordinarily retrench the workmen who was last employed in that category, unless for reasons to be recorded any other workman is retrenched. The term "establishment" as used in this section must be taken to mean the general establishment and not a particular department unless it is a specialised or technical department, or an absolutely separate water-tight department having no connection with other departments. A stationery department cannot be said to be a specialised or technical department. An attempt was made by the Company to prove by evidence that the work of the concerned clerk, Shri Bhaumick was of a specialised nature. P.W. 1 Shri MacGillivary deposed to that effect. He gave reasons for considering the work of this clerk as a specialised work by saying that his duties included keeping the books of accounts and buying stationery articles whenever necessary and these might be called some sort of specialised work. I am unable to accept this contention. Keeping books of accounts of a Stationery Department and buying stationery articles cannot certainly be considered to be specialised work. Moreover, this plea of the work of this clerk having been of a specialised nature is nowhere to be found in the written statement filed by the Company. It is clearly an after-thought. I hold that there is no substance in the belated plea raised by the Company at the time of the hearing that the work of this clerk, Shri Bhaumick, in the Stationery Department from where he was retrenched, was of a specialised nature and that isolated him from the category of clerks. I hold on the contrary that even when he was acting as a clerk and the only clerk of the Stationery Department, he was nothing other than a general clerk and included in the general category of clerks in the whole establishment, including other departments. I am also unable to hold that the Stationery Department was an absolutely separate watertight department in the general establishment. I have already indicated above that this clerk had come to this department after working as a general clerk in several other departments. The nature of work in a Stationery Department cannot certainly constitute it a separate watertight department from other departments of the general establishment. There are some statements in the evidence of P.W. 1 Shri MacGillivary himself to support this position. His evidence is as follows: "We have attendance register of our clerks. Our attendance register will not show that there was a separate Stationery Department. The attendance registers are only books where clerks attending sign their names. It would not be possible to ascertain by going through attendance register which clerk is attached to which department. We maintain only one register for all our employees in the Head Office—clerks and subordinate staff." So, there is only one general attendance register for all clerks of the Head Office establishment, including the Stationery Department which is treated as a part of the general establishment. So, in effecting retrenchment of his post in the Stationery Department, the question of his seniority in the category of clerks should have been considered and the normal principle of "last come first go" in the category of clerks should have been strictly followed in selecting the person for retrenchment. It is pleaded in the Union's written statement and proved by the unchallenged evidence of O.P.W. 1 Shri Anil Kumar Bhaumick that there are a number of clerks in the Accounts Department who are all junior to him. He has named all these junior clerks in his evidence. His statement in this respect has not at all been challenged in cross-examination. So, the position was that at the time of retrenchment Shri Bhaumick was nothing but a general clerk in the Stationery Department which formed part of the general establishment of the Company at the Head Office and there were a number of clerks junior to him in some other departments of the establishment. In this position, the Company should have certainly given effect to the principle of "last come first go" in effecting retrenchment and when there are clerks junior to him in the establishment, he should not have been retrenched. Exactly similar decision was made by the Labour Appellate Tribunal in the case of Sandersan Banerjee and Ors. vs. McLeod & Co. [LLJ 1954(I), 174]. It was held in that case that for effecting retrenchment, the whole clerical staff employed in the various departments of the Head Office of the Company must be taken as a unit and the juniormost in each particular category must be retrenched. Accordingly, I find upon the facts proved in the present case that the Company did not follow the normal mandatory principle of "last come first go" in retrenching Shri Bhaumick after reorganisation of the Stationery Department without assigning any sufficient reason and his retrenchment was illegal for that reason. His retrenchment being illegal because of violation of the statutory principle laid down in section 25G, Industrial Disputes Act, cannot be supported and maintained in the present case and it must be held to be unjustified on that ground alone. On this basis, I hold that the retrenchment of Shri Anil Kumar Bhaumick was not justified, though on principle the action of the Company in taking steps for retrenchment was justified, as already indicated above. As the retrenchment of Shri Anil Kumar Bhaumick has been found to be unjustified on the ground that it was in violation of the principles of section 25G, Industrial Disputes

Act, he is to get appropriate reliefs. I think there is no reason to deny him the normal relief of reinstatement with some back wages. In the overall circumstances of the case, I would allow him 50 per cent. of the back wages for the period between his retrenchment and reinstatement. This finishes the case of Shri Anil Kumar Bhaumick.

I now come to the case of the duftry Shri Mir Jinnat Ali. I have already held that in principle the Company was justified in effecting retrenchment in the Stationery Department on the ground of reorganisation. The evidence discloses that there were two duftries in the department and he was the junior of the two. There is no sufficient evidence before me to prove that there was any Duftry in any other department of the Company's general establishment who was junior to him at that time. This being the factual position, it cannot be considered that his retrenchment was in violation of the principle enacted in section 25G, Industrial Disputes Act. I have already indicated above that in effecting retrenchment, the Company complied with the requirements of clauses (a) to (c) of section 25F, Industrial Disputes Act, by offering the retrenched personnel wages for one month and statutory retrenchment compensation also by giving notice to the Government under Rule 77 of the West Bengal Industrial Disputes Rules. So, I hold that the retrenchment of Shri Mir Jinnat Ali was justified and he is not entitled to any relief.

On all the findings and for the reasons recorded above, I award as follows:

The retrenchment of Shri Anil Kumar Bhaumick was not justified. The Company shall reinstate him on his reporting for duty within 15 days from the publication of the award. The Company shall also pay 50 per cent. of his normal wages for the period from the date of retrenchment to reinstatement within a month from the publication of the award, on his reporting for duty in accordance with this award.

The retrenchment of Shri Mir Jinnat Ali was justified and he is not entitled to any relief.

This finishes my award.

Associated Pioneer Traders (P) Ltd., all of 135 Canning Street, Calcutta-1, on the one hand and their employees represented by Messrs. Nanalal M. Varma & Co. BEFORE THE FIRST INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL, WEST BENGAL

PRESENT:

Shri RENUPADA MUKHERJEE, Judge, First Industrial Tribunal

For the Companies: Shri P. P. Ginwala, Counsel, instructed by Shri B. B. Choudhury, Counsel.

For the Union: Shri P. P. Pathak, assisted by Shri Sailendra Nath Chakraborty.

By its Labour Department Order No. 2620-I.R./IR/11L-75/63, dated Calcutta, the 4th July 1963, this industrial dispute was referred to this Tribunal by the Government of West Bengal for adjudication under section 10 of the Industrial Disputes Act. One party to the reference is three Companies bearing names (1) Nanalal M. Varma & Co. (P) Ltd., (2) Messrs. M. K. Varma & Sons (P) Ltd., (3) Messrs. Associated Pioneer Traders (P) Ltd. and the other party is the employees of these three Companies represented by Messrs. Nanalal M. Varma & Co. (P) Ltd. and its Associate Companies' Employees' Union. This Union will henceforth be described simply as the Union and the three Companies will be hereinafter described as the first Company, the second Company and the third Company respectively.

The only issue referred for adjudication is the following:

Whether the management are justified in transferring the following employees from Calcutta Office to other offices of the Company outside Calcutta? To what relief, if any, are they entitled?

(1) Shri Kashinath Banerjee,
(2) Shri Harish Chandra Roy,
(3) Shri Sunil Kumar Mitra,
(4) Shri Ashutosh Mukherjee,
(5) Shri R. K. Ghosh and
(6) Shri S. S. Guha.

Notices were issued in due course to the three Companies and the Union for filing their written statements. The written statement of the Union was filed on 14th August 1963 and thereafter the three Companies filed their written statements separately.

The following is a brief summary of the written statement of the Union. The first Company Messrs. Nanalal M. Varma & Co. (P) Ltd. and the other two associated Companies virtually form one establishment and they are housed in the same premises and are under one common control. The six workmen concerned in this dispute are all permanent workmen having varied periods of service to their credit. All these employees were recruited for working at Calcutta Office and they have all along been serving there. On 18th March 1963 these employees were served with an illegal orders of transfer to different places outside Calcutta. The employees of these Companies have recently organised themselves and formed a Union and this activity of theirs is not viewed with favour by the Companies. Apart from the present dispute several other disputes between these Companies and their workmen are pending before the Conciliation Officers and these transfers have been effected for the purpose of handicapping thes employees in pursuing the conciliation proceedings. The orders of transfer are illegal and mala fide and were were made with the ulterior motive of compelling the workmen to give up their legitimate Trade Union activities. So it is prayed on behalf of the Union that the Companies may be asked to withdraw the orders of transfer and to pay full compensation to the employees for the loss sustained by them.

Three separate written statements were filed on behalf of the three Companies. The tenor of all the written statements is very much the same. On behalf of Messrs. Nanalal M. Varma & Co. (P) Ltd. which is the first Company it was stated that this Company carried on business of dealing in coal from its registered office at 135 Canning Street, Calcutta. Owing to difficult conditions through which the coal industry has been passing the Directors of the Company considered that its business can be more efficiently and economically conducted and supervised at an office situate in or near the coal fields and accordingly at a meeting of the Board of Directors held on 15th February 1963 it was resolved that a special resolution of the board to the effect that the registered office of the Company be shifted to Sitarampore with effect from 18th March 1963 should be placed before the share-holders. This was done and the special resolution was carried unanimously at an extraordinary general meeting of the share-holders of this Company on 11th March 1963. The entire business of the Company was thus transferred from Calcutta to Sitarampore and the majority of the Calcutta employees reported for duty at Sitarampore Office. Three of the Calcutta employees, namely, Sarbasri Ashutosh Mukherjee, R. K. Ghose and S. S. Guha whose names figure in this reference did not join at Sitarampore. As the entire business of the Company was transferred from Calcutta these workmen are not entitled to claim employment in Calcutta. The impugned order does not amount to an order of transfer of any particular employee or employees but it amounts to a transfer of the entire office and the entire business. There was no move on the part of the Company to cause any injury or prejudice to these workmen and so they are not entitled to get any relief.

This Company also raised a legal objection to the effect that three separate disputes involving three separate Companies have been combined in one single reference and this is not permissible. It is also stated by the Company that the disputes are individual disputes between the Companies and their employees and so they cannot be a subject-matter of a reference under the Industrial Disputes Act.

The second Company, namely, Messrs. M. K. Varma & Sons (P) Ltd. has stated in its written statement that this Company deals in machinery and plant used in collieries and its Head Office was at Sitarampore and it has got a branch office at Dhansar near Dhanbad. For convenience of business the Board of Directors decided at a meeting held on 8th March 1963 to transfer the Calcutta Office with its staff to Dhansar. As the entire office with its business was transferred, the only employee of Calcutta Office Shri Kashinath Banerjee who is involved in this reference is not entitled to get any relief. The legal objections taken by the first Company are also supported by this Company.

The written statement of the third Company, namely, Messrs. Associated Pioneer Traders (P) Ltd. is to the same effect as the written statement of the other two Companies. It is stated that this Company carries on business in plant, machinery and stores used for collieries and for convenience of business the board of directors pased a resolution on 20th February 1963 for shifting its registered office from Calcutta to Sitarampore with effect from 18th March 1963. This resolution was approved at an extraordinary general meeting of the share-holders. After the transfer of the registered office to Sitarampore the work previously carried on in Calcutta Office was carried on from Dhansar Office near Dhanbad. The majority of Calcutta employees reported for duty at Dhansar, excepting Sarbasri Harish Chandra Roy and Sunil Kumar Mitra who are involved in this reference and who refrained from doing so. The transfer of entire office and of the business carried on from that office was a bona fide one and there was no motive on the part of the company to cause any inconvenience or prejudice to the workmen.

Before I enter into the merits of the case I shall deal with the legal objections taken by Shri Ginwalla on behalf of the Companies. He contended, in the first place, that this dispute has been raised by individual workmen for redressing their individual grievances and so this Tribunal has got no jurisdiction to entertain the dispute. There is no substance in this contention. It has been proved by Shri Sailendra Nath Chakraborty, the Secretary of the Union, that the Union was formed in February 1963, i.e., before the present dispute arose. The Union took up the cause of these workmen in conciliation proceedings. There is no suggestion that the Union is a fictitious one. As the Union has sponsored the cause of the workmen, the dispute has acquired the status of an industrial dispute. So I negative the conention of Shri Ginwalla that the dispute is not an industrial dispute.

Shri Ginwalla argued in the next place that three separate Companies are involved in this reference and three separate sets of employees of these Companies are claiming redress. He submitted that a dispute of this description is incapable of being combined into a single dispute. This argument of Shri Ginwalla is not well founded because the dispute raised on behalf of the workmen of three separate Companies is of a similar nature and no prejudice has been caused to any party by combining such separate disputes in a single reference. This objection of Shri Ginwalla is also negatived.

After having disposed of all the preliminary legal objections raised on behalf of the three companies, I now pass on to consider the case on its merits.

Altogether six employees of three Companies are involved in this reference. Their names are the following:

(1) Shri Kashinath Banerjee.
(2) Shri Harish Chandra Roy.
(3) Shri Sunil Kumar Mitra.
(4) Shri Ashutosh Mukherjee.
(5) Shri R. K. Ghose.
(6) Shri S. S. Guha.

Out of these six workmen Shri Kashinath Banerjee, serial No. 1, was the employee of Messrs. M. K. Varma & Sons (P) Ltd. which is the second Company. Sarbasri Harish Chandra Roy, serial No. (2), and Sunil Kumar Mitra, serial No. 3, were employees of Messrs. Associated Pioneer Traders (P) Ltd., the third Company and the remaining employees Sarbasri (4) Ashutosh Mukherjee, (5) R. K. Ghose and (6) S. S Guha were employees of Nanalal M. Varma & Co. (P) Ltd., the first Company.

I shall separately deal with the cases of these three groups of workmen.

I first deal with the case of Shri Kashi Nath Banerjee who was an employee of Messrs. M. K. Varma & Sons (P) Ltd., the second Company. It is the case of this Company that Kashinath was the only employee of its Calcutta Office and by a resolution of the Board of Directors passed on 8th March 1963 the Calcutta Office with its staff was shifted to Dhansar near Dhanbad with immediate effect. As the entire business was transferred from Calcutta, the workman is not entitled to make any grievance and the company was within its right to transfer its business to a place which it considers to be suitable. The resolutioon of the Board of Directors has been marked Ext. GG. It runs to the following effect:

> "Resolved that the Calcutta Office with all staffs be and is hereby shifted to Dhansar (Dhanbad) with immediate effect".

Kashinath was the only employee of Calcutta and apparently the Company was of opinion that it was not profitable or useful to keep an office in Calcutta. A small Branch Office consisting of two employees was being maintained at Dhansar [vide acquittance roll Ext. KK(1)]. The existence of that office could not be questioned on behalf of the Union. This is proved by several documents marked Exts HH, HH(1), HH(2), HH(3), HH(4), JJ and JJ(1). Kashinath did not appear before this Tribunal and there is not an iota of evidence from the side of the Union to show that after the transfer of Calcutta Office this Company has kept any staff in that office or is carrying on any business from that office. This transfer, in my judgment, was not a pretence or a matter of show nor was it effected for the purpose of putting Kashinath to trouble. As the office of the Company was shifted to Dhansar Kashinath was bound, in the absence of any contract to the contrary, to join at Dhansar. As he did not do so, he is not entitled to any relief.

I now deal with the case of Sarbasri Harish Chandra Roy and Sunil Kumar Mitra who were employees of Messrs. Associated Pioneer Traders (P) Ltd., the third Company.

The case of the third Company was that the registered office of this Company and also its entire business were shifted from Calcutta to Sitarampore and as a result of this shifting the Calcutta employees were asked to report for duty at Dhansar near Dhanbad where this Company had an office from before. Shri Babulal Madhabji Varma (O.P.W. 6) who is one of the Directors of this Company stated in his evidence that the reason for transferring the registered office was unfavourable market condition prevailing at the relevant time. He further deposed that in February 1963 one of the Directors made a proposal for appointing a representative in the coal field for canvassing where the Company has got most of its business. It was further stated by this witness that as a result of the discussion of this proposal it was settled to transfer the registered office to Sitarampore. In this connection the minutes of the proceedings of a meeting of the Board of Directors held on 20th February 1963 were proved. The minutes were marked HHH. The Board of Directors took a resolution in this meeting that the registered office of the Company be shifted to Sitarampore with effect from 18th March 1963. An extraordinary general meeting of the shareholders followed the above meeting and the shareholders passed a resolution on March 15, 1963, in accordance with the resolution of the Board of Directors [vide Minutes HHH(1)].

According to the case of the Union there were seven members on the Calcutta staff of this Company prior to the shifting of the office. They were Sarbasri M. A. Jiwani, Sunil Mitra, Ram Ekbal Singh, Harish Ch. Roy, Chhabilal Chaprasi, Rajani Kanta Roy and Prohlad Shyamal. According to the case of the Company the last named three persons Chhabilal, Rajani and Prohlad Shyamal were not on the staff of the Company in Calcutta at the relevant time. In this connection an acquittance roll has been filed on behalf of the Company. It was marked Ext. FFF. It purports to show that for the months of January and February 1963 there were only four employees in the Calcutta Staff of this Company, viz., Sunil Kumar Mitra, M. A. Jiwani, Harish Ch. Roy and Ram Ekbal Singh. The names of Chhabilal, Rajani and Prohlad do not figure there. In the acquittance roll for the month of March, we find the names of Sarbasri M. A. Jiwani and Ram Ekbal Singh only because Harish Roy and Sunil Mitra did not admittedly report themselves at Dhansar after the office was transferred on 18th March 1963. From April onwards the names of employees of Dhansar Office who had been working from before also figure in the acquittance roll. Tis book was inspected by an Inspecting Officer under the Provisions of Bihar Shops and Establishments Act on 4th November 1963 [vide endorsement Ext. FFF(1)]. So there is no reason to hold that this acquittance roll is a fabricated or manufactured document. I hold that at the relevant time, namely, March 1963 there were only four employees in the Calcutta Office of this Company, namely, Sarbasri Sunil Mitra, M. A. Jiwani, Ram Ekbal Singh and Harish Ch. Roy. Of those four persons Sarbasri M. A. Jiwani and Ram Ekbal Singh obeyed the order of the Company. Sunil Mitra refused to carry out the order at first. But he has settled his dispute with the Company and reported himself at Dhansar. He sent a letter to this Tribunal in a registered cover on 12th March 1964 stating that he never authorised the Union to take up his dispute and his name may be expunged from the order of reference. Sunil Mitra gave evidence before this Tribunal stating that he has joined at Dhansar on 16th March 1964. In his cross examination this witness declined to answer the question whether he has been a daily passenger from his village home at Haripal to Calcutta for the last three months. He also declined to produce the contents of his pocket in which his monthly ticket was said to have been kept. Shri Pathak argued from this conduct of Shri Sunil Mitra that he is still serving in the Calcutta Office of this Company. I am not inclined to accept this contention of Shri Pathak because in his examination-in-chief this witness stated specifically that he joined at Dhansar on 16th March 1964. His attendance is recorded at Dhansar office from that date (vide Ext. 000). It does not appear to me that this attendance register is a false and fabricated document. I am rather of opinion that by keeping silent this witness who at one time refused to carry out the order of the Company attempted to lend some support indirectly to the case of the Union.

That the registered office of this third Company was transferred to Sitarampore cannot be seriously questioned. Notice of this transfer was given to the Registrar of Companies (vide Ext. III). I have already mentioned that resolutions were duly passed by the Directors and the share-holders for transferring the office. Some notice and other papers produced in this Tribunal for the purpose of showing that an office of this Company had been functioning at Dhansar (vide Exts. KKK, series LLL and NNN series). It would be meaningless on the part of the Company to make a show of transferring their registered office from Calcutta to Sitarampore simply for the purpose of putting some employees to trouble. There is not an iota of evidence to show that after the transfer of the registered office to Sitarampore this Company transacted any item of business from Calcutta Office. The notice marked Ext. JJJ by the Company would show that their Calcutta Office was closed with effect from 19th March 1963. In these circumstances the transfer of the Calcutta Office to Dhansar was not a transfer of employees in the ordinary acceptance of the term. It was the inevitable result of the shifting of the registered office from Calcutta to Sitarampore and the Company was justified in directing its Calcutta employees to join at Dhansar where an office of the Company had been functioning from before. In these circumstances the Union is not justified in questioning the propriety of the order of transfer. Harish Ch. Roy is not, therefore, entitled to get any relief. As regards Sunil Mitra I shall pass a "no dispute" award.

I now take up the case of the remaining three workmen who were employees of Messrs. Nanalal M. Varma & Co. (P) Ltd., the first Company. They are Sarbasri Ashutosh Mukherjee, R. K. Ghosh and S. S. Guha.

The claim of this Company that its entire Calcutta Office was shifted to Sitarampore was very hotly debated from the side of the Union. Besides the three employees of this Company whose names I have just mentioned there were seven other employees in Calcutta Office whose names are given below:

(1) S. K. Majhi, (2) Sew Narayan Ghosh, (3) Santi Lal Damji, (4) S. R. Chakraborty, (5) Prodyot Kumar Chatterjee, (6) Debarshi Vegaud and (7) Raghu Singh.

Of these seven persons Debarshi Vegaud gave up the services of the Company at the time of the alleged transfer of the office. This is admitted by both parties. The acquittance roll shows that the other six employees obeyed the transfer order and they joined at Sitarampore Office. The local name of the place where this office has been transferred is Kankarsole but Sitarampore being a prominent place, the Company has led evidence to the effect that the office has been shifted to Sitarampore. The case of the Company is that this is not a case of transfer of individual employees but a transfer of the registered office and the entire business of the Company. In this connection two resolutions — one passed by the Board of Directors on 15th February 1963 and another by the share-holders on 11th March 1963—were placed before me on behalf of the Company. The resolutions have been marked Exts. Z and Z(1). They are to the effect that the registered office of the Company would be shifted to Sitarampore with effect from 18th March 1963. The Calcutta employees were accordingly advised to report themselves at Sitarampore Office. The acquittance roll of the Company to which I have already referred would show that six of the employees obeyed this order but the three employees involved in this reference refused to carry out the order. The tenth employee, namely, the stenographer Debarshi Vegaud left the Company.

On behalf of the Union some evidence was adduced in this case for the purpose of showing that this Company is still carrying on some business from its previous Calcutta Office. The case of the Company is that it has shifted its business to Sitarampore but kept a representative in Calcutta for the purpose of looking after its outstanding work. In this connection a resolution of the Board of Directors, dated 8th April 1963 (Ext. Z2), was placed before me. The resolution is to the following effect.

> "Resolved that Shri T. R. Varma, a relative of the Directors, be and is hereby authorised to manage the day-to-day affairs of the Company at Calcutta with a remuneration in the grade of Rs. 500—30—800 (consolidated)".

The Managing Director of the first Company was examined in this Tribunal. He is Shri Ramdas M. Varma (O.P.W. 5). He deposed to the effect that the office of the Company was shifted for convenience of business. This Company purchases coal from Raniganj coal field. Coal is despatched by wagons supplied by the railway. The wagons are loaded in Raniganj and Jharia coal fields. Indent for wagons has to be made at Asansole and the despatch of wagons has got to be supervised by the Company on behalf of customers. According to the case of the Company all these works could not be properly managed from Calcutta Office and so the Company shifted its office to Sitarampore.

Shri Pathak submitted on behalf of the Union that substantial business of the Company is still being carried on from Calcutta Office and the statement in the written statement of the Company that its entire business has been transferred to Sitarampore is absolutely incorrect. In this connection I may refer to the oral evidence of Shri Sailendra Nath Chakraborty, P.W. 2, the Secretary of the Union. In his examination-in-chief he said that Prodyot Chatterjee, S. R. Chakraborty and Sudhir Majhi are still working in Calcutta Office. But in cross-examination he stated that he has heard this from the abovementioned employees and has seen them at the office gate in Calcutta. Sudhir Manjhi was examined on behalf of the Company. He stated that he and the two other persons named by Sailendra Nath Chakraborty are working at Sitarampore and not in Calcutta. The acquittance roll which shows this was inspected by a Government Officer (vide signature marked Ext. H1). So I do not believe the evidence of Shri Sailendra Nath Chakraborty on this point.

Much reliance was placed by the Union on a so-called newspaper advertisement in a newspaper called "Gallary". The newspaper is dated 1st February 1964. In one sheet of this paper there is the following advertisement:

> "With compliments of:
> M/s. Nanalal M. Varma & Co.
> (Pvt.) Limited,
> 135 Canning Street,
> Calcutta-1."

On behalf of the Company it was strongly contended that the Company was not responsible for this publication and it must have been inspired by some interested party. This publication appeared during the pendency of the reference case. It is not at all probable that the first Company would be so unwise as to publish any such avdertisement which would be damaging to its own case. So no importance should be attached to this advertisement and I hold that it was not put in at the instance of the first Company.

Although the Company stated in its written statement that it is not carrying on any business from its Calcutta Office I am of opinion that some business is being done on behalf of the Company by its representative Shri T. R. Varma. Covers of some registered letters filed on behalf of the Union would show that letters are coming from cutomers to the Calcutta address of the Company after the transfer of Calcutta Office (vide Exts. 7, 8, 9 and 10). The Union has somehow secured the covers of the registered letters. The Company has not produced the contents of these covers. So it may be presumed that the registered letters were sent to this Company in connection with business dealings. In this connection two letters said to have been written to the Coal Controller by one Sakuja on behalf of the first Company were produced by the Union. They were marked Exts. 19 and 19(a).

Both of them are dated 8th May 1963. The letters purported to say that this Company agreed to supply a number of wagons of coal to Calcutta Electric Supply Corporation Ltd. They are addressed to the Coal Controller. The originals of these two letters were called for from the office of Coal Controller and a clerk of that office Shri Bhupendra Nath Biswas (P.W. 1) deposed that the originals could not be found in spite of thorough search. Shri Ginwallah contended that these letters, in the absence of the originals, are not admissible in evidence and that they are spurious documents which have been manufactured on some paper bearing letter head of the Company. The Managing Director Shri Ramdas M. Varma stated in his evidence that Shri Sakuja, the alleged signatory of these two letters, was never an officer of this Company. It is difficult to believe that Shri Ramdas is telling a deliberate falsehood. I am not prepared to place any reliance on these letters. Even assuming that they are genuine they would show at best that the Company's representative Shri T. R. Varma is still doing some business for the Company in Calcutta. The case of the Company that the entire business has been shifted to Sitarampore may not be true but there is no reason to doubt that the registered office of the Company and also its main business were transferred to Sitarampore as alleged by the Company.

Shri Pathak on behalf of the Union contended that the employees of the first Company and its associated Companies had formed a Union before the present dispute arose and this move for ostensible transfer of the Head Office of the first Company was taken for the purpose of nipping the activities of the Union in the bud. Reference was made by Shri Pathak to a letter marked Ext. 14. It is dated 4th March 1963. It was addressed to the Regional Labour Commissioner (Central) and it contains an allegation that the management of the first Company was threatening the employees and had already discharged an employee named Shri A. K. Chakraborty and was also forcing the employees to sign statements and registers against the interest of the employees. It would, however, appear that the Board of Directors had taken a resolution to transfer the office on 15th February 1963, i.e., about three weeks before the Union sent its letter to the Regional Labour Commissioner. That this Company genuinely transferred its head office to Sitarampore is evidenced by two notices given to the Registrar of Companies (Exts. B1 and B2), some certificates of Banks [Exts. C1, C2 and C3] and an order of Commercial Tax Officer Ext. E1. That a substantial section of Calcutta employees is working at Sitarampore office cannot be questioned. The contention of the Union was that this Company has not really transferred its business to Sitarampore and is carrying on the same from its Calcutta Office. If this contention were to be accepted, then it must be held that the Company has been unnecessarily maintaining a staff and office at Sitarampore simply for the purpose of putting the dissentent employees to trouble. This would be against the pecuniary interest of the Company and would also be prejudicial to their business interest. If the Company never meant to transfer its business to Sitarampore then the Company would have been landed in a very unenviable position if the entire staff had obeyed the order of transfer. Considering all these facts and circumstances I am of opinion that the Company really meant to transfer its head office to Sitarampore and it has transferred to that place factually. It is true that the Company has kept a representative in its Calcutta premises. That representative Shri T. R. Varma is looking after the outstanding work of the Company and also some Railway Contracts. This does not mean that the Company has not transferred its head office and at least a principle part of its business to Sitarampore. On the evidence adduced before me I hold that the head office of the Company and a principal part of its business have been transferred to Sitarampore and so Shri Ashutosh Mukherjee, Shri R. K. Ghose and Shri S. S. Guha were bound to abode the order of transfer passed on them. As they did not do so, they are not entitled to claim any relief.

In the result I hold that the managements of the three Companies involved in this reference were justified in transferring the six employees mentioned in the order of reference to the respective places where the Calcutta Officers of the Companies have been transferred. As regards Shri Sunil Mitra who has settled his dispute with his employer, I pass a "no dispute" award. As regards the remaining five employees I hold that they are not entitled to any relief in this reference.

This is my adjudication and award.

PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION, WEST BENGAL

General instructions to candidates applying in response to advertisements issued by the Commission for recruitment to posts by "Selection".

(1) Instructions regarding submission of application: Applications are to be made on the prescribed form which will be available from the office of the Public Service Commission, West Bengal, Anderson House (ground floor), Alipore, Calcutta-27, personally or on sending a large self-addressed envelope with stamps sufficient to cover the postage affixed to it. Candidates who are unable to obtain copies of the prescribed form may apply on any similar typed (not handwritten) form showing exactly the wording and spacing of the sample form published in the "Calcutta Gazette" of the 1st September, 1955, provided the blanks are filled up in the candidates' own handwriting.

(2) Concession in age to political sufferer: A candidate who before 15th August 1947 was detained, imprisoned, interned or externed on account of his/her activities in connection with the country's struggle for independence, not being convicted of an offence indicating moral turpitude, shall be entitled to a concession in respect of the upper age limit. The concession granted will be equal to the exact period of detention, imprisonment, internment or externment suffered up to a maximum of four years.

(3) Particulars and certificates required: Candidates should furnish evidence of their age, qualifications and previous experience together with certificates written not more than one year prior to the date of their applications, from responsible persons, testifying to their private character.

The Commission accepts only the age of a candidate as recorded in the Matriculation or the Secondary School Final/Leaving Certificate. In the case of a female candidate whose age is not recorded in the Matriculation or School Final Certificate, any of the following evidence of age is accepted by the Commission:—

1. A certificate from the Headmistress of the School, which she last attended, showing her exact age as recorded in the school register.

2. An affidavit regarding her age sworn by her father or mother or some other person in a position to know by having been present or heard of her birth at the time of occurrence.

3. A certificate regarding her age, from a Member of the Legislature or a gazetted officer, who must have known the candidate and her family, indicating clearly the evidence on the basis of which he/she satisfied himself/herself on the point.

(4) Fee: Candidates must enclose with their applications a fee of Rs. 5/- in the form of a receipted chalan from a Government Treasury or the Reserve Bank of India under the head "XXI—Miscellaneous—Receipts of the Public Service Commission, West Bengal". Money orders, cheques, etc., in lieu of treasury chalans are not accepted. Postal orders, however, may be accepted from candidates. They should be crossed and made payable to "The Deputy Secretary, Public Service Commission, West Bengal". No application will be considered unless accompanied with the requisite application fee.

Candidates abroad may deposit their application fees with the High Commissioner of India or the Embassy, as the case may be, and obtain receipts for the same, which will have to be attached to their applications to be submitted to the Commission.

Candidates in Government service should make sure before depositing fee that their applications will be forwarded by their superior officers. In no case will the fee paid with the application be refunded.

Note.—A member of the Scheduled Caste or Scheduled Tribe claiming age concession must furnish with his application a certificate in original from a gazetted officer or a Member of Parliament or State Legislature belonging to the Scheduled Caste or Scheduled Tribe, specifying the particular caste or tribe to which he claims to belong.

(5) Address: Candidates should give their present address and should communicate at once any subsequent change of address.

(6) Canvassing: Any attempt on the part of candidates to enlist support of their applications through persons of influence or officials of Government will disqualify them for appointment. Spontaneous recommendation from persons interested in the candidates or otherwise known to them will be disregarded.

(7) Applications from candidates who are in permanent or temporary employment under any Government, a local or Statutory Body (e.g., Damodar Valley Corporation), in India will be rejected unless they are submitted through the appointing authority of their posts or service.

Candidates serving under Government or a local or Statutory Body should submit an advance copy in the prescribed form. The application fee should in such cases be attached to the advance copy and not to the original. The candidature of such applicants may not however be considered if the original applications do not reach the Commission's office within a fortnight from the closing date. Unless applications in original or advance copies with application fees are received within the closing date, late applications may be rejected.

A. C. ROY,
Secretary, Public Service Commission,
West Bengal.
